INTRODUCTION: PROGRESSED CHART

Your Personality Profile is revealed by the imprints of the planets in your NATAL Chart. The NATAL REPORT is a projection of "Personality Potential" and can be compared to a "Blueprint" of a building that is being planned for construction. At different stages of development while the building is being built, certain additions, deletions and/or other changes may become desirable (or even necessary) and the original blueprint may be modified to accommodate those changes. And so it is with your personality as indicated by your NATAL Chart. During the "building" of your life, your personality is being developed, and the imprints of the personality blueprint are being modified and/or changed, both by your own choices and by circumstances beyond your control.

The progression of the planets as they continue their respective orbits into different signs and houses, and the aspects they form, are beyond our control. But we DO have some control over how we handle these new influences, and how we let them affect our personality. In order to deal with these influences, it certainly would help for us to know WHAT these influences are, and WHEN we will have to deal with them. The PROGRESSED REPORT provides that information: the WHAT, the WHEN, and (in some reports) the HOW.

Now, for the first time, we have a Progressed Report that not only tells us WHAT, WHEN, and HOW--it also tells us HOW LONG! It locates the signs, the aspects, and the house positions for each of the planets for any given year of your life and tells you how long they will remain in those positions. With each of the interpretations for these progressed planetary positions, we include a brief synopsis of the influences and imprints of its position in your Natal Chart for your comparison.

Many techniques for following the development of man from birth through life have been devised and studied by Astrologers since about the second or third century BC. The technique used in this Report is called "Secondary Progressions". This system uses the "Day for a Year" process which appears to have been practiced since Ptolemy and Copernicus, and was supported by the German mathematician Johannes Kepler (1571-1630). The system is implemented by choosing a specific birthday. We then count a day for each year of your life, and cast a chart for the "progressed birthday".

The Progressed chart is the first chart used in Predictive Astrology, for it provides a good preview and overview of what you can expect in the coming year. We feel that the Progressed chart provides the first step toward using Astrology for a better and more fully informed way of living life -- AS IT UNFOLDS.

When combined with information obtained from a "FORECAST REPORT", OR "TRANSIT REPORT", which interprets the aspects of the transiting planets (where the planets actually WILL be at any given time), we can get an extremely comprehensive body of predictive information for any "progressed year"--and beyond. Check with your personal Astrologer for information concerning these Reports.

YOUR PROGRESSED ASCENDANT

Like the Sun-sign, progressing the chart will change the sign on the cusp of the first house, your Ascendant. It will also bring influences of the new sign into play upon the personality in changing, modifying, and "blending" experiences. Each time a new sign "rises" on the first house, you may feel a little disoriented, especially during the first year or two. This is because different methods, or "styles" of operating in interpersonal and business transactions can vary considerably under the influence of different Rising signs. Since the Ascendant represents the face (the "Mask") we show the world, others may begin to see us in a different light before we become aware of any changes in ourselves.

Unlike the Sun's thirty-year cycle, the change cycles of the Ascendant may not be as predictable as the Sun, since the houses may have more, or less, than thirty degrees. Casting the chart for the place of residence instead of the birthplace can also affect the degree of the Ascendant. The exact time of changes from the birth chart Ascendant and from the progressed Rising-signs can be difficult to trace when changes of residence are extreme.

The Rising sign in the Progressed chart determines the signs on the houses, just as it does in the Natal chart. Each time the Ascendant changes, the sign on the cusps of the other eleven houses may change, also. The interpretations of the signs on the houses will give some clues regarding the affairs of each house during the year for which the Progressed chart is cast. These signs on the cusps may not change very much from year to year unless you move your place of residence a significant distance from one geographic location to another.

Your Progressed Ascendant is now at four degrees of the sign, Leo. The following interpretations are for the current year and place of residence.

PROGRESSED LEO RISING WITH NATAL ASCENDANT IN GEMINI--Life is never dull around a Gemini rising. People with this Ascendant can be entertaining for hours because they cannot stand to be bored themselves. They need constant mental stimulation because their active minds fleet through a constant stream of thoughts. You may be accused of having a dual personality, and you may actually feel safer if you have two situations in your life at once--be it personal or business. In reality, you are only exhibiting the duality of the human condition. The pull of polar opposites can be intense, causing you to swing rapidly like a pendulum until you understand the necessity of bringing the spiritual and the physical together within yourself. Part of your appeal may be that people just never know exactly where they stand with you. You can outtalk, outthink, outsmart and outmaneuver most of them all the time. You will respect them if they CAN keep up with you, but will not like it if they should get ahead of you.

When your Ascendant moves into Leo in your PROGRESSED Chart, you may feel that you sparkle brilliantly when the Sun is shining and actually feel subdued when it is hiding. This progression can bring you a fiery personality influenced by leadership, determination and stability. Leo must lead, and you may assume the leadership role subtly and without any sense of abdication on the part of others while this sign is on the Ascendant in your Progressed Chart. You will also feel the need to excel in what you do now, and anytime you feel failure you are likely to be wounded more deeply than you want others to know. When this happens, you will go into hiding, lick your wounds in private, and restore your sense of self-worth in your own way and your own time. Relationships can be exciting during this life cycle, but you will want to them to be on your terms. You could feel devastated when you fail to live up to your expectations--or, to what you think are the expectations of others. When you hide to lick your wounds, you need to be particularly wary of indulging in alcohol or other drugs to help restore your self-esteem. You could find them to be too effective, causing you to disregard more positive and healthy measures. Mood altering chemicals are likely to produce more euphoria for Leo Rising than for others.

PROGRESSED LEO ON 2ND HOUSE--The Sun rules Leo, and the second house deals with money, worth and finances. Progressed Leo on the cusp makes the Sun's position vital to how your money is earned. You are likely to be the major wage earner during this time. In addition to salary, it could be in the form of residuals, commissions, and dividends. There is also the possibility of an inheritance during this progression.

PROGRESSED VIRGO ON 3RD HOUSE--This sign on the cusp of the third house (the thinking mind, communications, study, travel, and writing) almost guarantees that writing or communications in general will be strongly emphasized while Virgo is here in the Progressed Chart. Your communications are likely to be precise, practical and understandable. However, you could be critical of relatives now. Short trips are likely during this progression, and will be carefully planned ahead of time.

PROGRESSED LIBRA ON 4TH HOUSE--The fourth house relates to the home life and relationship with the parent of the opposite sex. Libra on the cusp of the Progressed Chart is ruled by Venus, the planet of love, beauty, art, social matters, and ease of living. You are likely to consider family as a partnership with equal fairness and justice for all while Libra is here. You need this attitude for your own security and emotional health. You may cultivate beauty and art in the home now, and could become emotionally attached to domestic and household objects.

PROGRESSED SCORPIO ON 5TH HOUSE--The fifth house deals with love-sex, children, entertainment, and speculation. Scorpio on the fifth house cusp in the Progressed Chart, is ruled by Pluto, the planet of extremes and regeneration. You are likely to have a natural desire and need for emotional attachment to very dynamic and charismatic people with Scorpio on this house. Your children of both body and mind could be subject to intense emotions. Your excessive concern for them could lead to domination if you are not careful. You could be jealous of loved ones now, but are likely to be very sensual and generous.

PROGRESSED CAPRICORN ON 6TH HOUSE--Saturn, planet of limitations and discipline, rules Capricorn, the sign of conservatism. When it is in the sixth house of work, service, and health in the Progressed Chart, it brings a great depth and seriousness to these areas of life. You will be organized in your work, and when you work, you work hard. You will be disciplined in the services you offer during this time. Health problems could arise, centered around the knees, skin, or stomach.

PROGRESSED AQUARIUS ON 7TH HOUSE--Aquarius, sign of steadfastness and social responsibility, is ruled by Uranus, planet of sudden changes, inventiveness and the unusual. In the seventh house of the Progressed Chart, they indicate the need for individual freedom in partnerships, and possibly an unusual spouse. Close relationship in marriage is likely. Try to avoid being overly idealistic and of setting unrealistic expectations. Relationships can terminate during this time if they do not provide individual freedom and mutual respect.

PROGRESSED AQUARIUS ON 8TH HOUSE--The Eighth House deals with your primal instincts, personal needs, other's resources, and death. The planet Uranus ruling Aquarius on the cusp of your eighth house in the Progressed chart indicates that your needs may be filled at the very last split second and in an unpredictable manner while Aquarius is here. This position indicates strong interests in the spiritual. Death could affect you strongly (especially loss of friends and relatives), but these feelings are difficult for you to express. Your sensitivity could be attuned to mediumship during this time.

PROGRESSED PISCES ON 9TH HOUSE--This house relates to the higher mind, philosophy, internationalism, and publishing. Pisces is ruled by Neptune, planet of vision and inspiration. Mystical interests and powers can strongly influence your religious beliefs when this sign is on the ninth house cusp in the Progressed chart. You will have strong aversions to limiting beliefs and doctrines. You are likely to have deep insights into problem solving, for your intuition will be extremely strong during this progression.

PROGRESSED ARIES ON 10TH HOUSE--The tenth house, the Midheaven, is the house of profession, honor, and esteem. Mars, the planet of action, determination, drive, and ambition, rules Aries on your tenth house. This is certainly a strong combination when found in the Progressed chart. You will work hard at your profession and spend enormous amounts of energy on the job during this time. You could be over-sensitive to authority during this time, however, and impulsive in professional efforts.

PROGRESSED TAURUS ON 11TH HOUSE--This is the house of friends, hopes, and love received. The planet Venus rules Taurus on the cusp of your eleventh house. During this progressed position, your friends are likely to be artistic, stable, and, (possibly) wealthy. You can expect support from friends for your plans, since you are likely to plan carefully and sensibly during this time.

PROGRESSED CANCER ON 12TH HOUSE--Cancer, emotional sign of the mother, is ruled by the emotional planet Moon. When it is found in the twelfth house of hidden matters and the subconscious process in the Progressed chart, emotions are likely to be very vulnerable. Mysterious feelings from the subconscious can make you want to cry without knowing why. You will need to seek seclusion at times. This configuration can make you very intuitional and psychic when it is in the progressed chart.

PROGRESSED SUN IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

The Sun moves forward (counter-clockwise) in the Progressed chart from its Natal position at the approximate rate of one degree for each year of life. This means that the Sun will progress into a different sign by, or before, age thirty. Remember that these Natal Sun-sign influences are with us all our lives in the form of birth imprints. In the Progressed chart, the new Sun-sign will influence, enhance, modify, and/or blend with those in the Natal chart--and so with any subsequent progressed Sun-signs. The influences may be most recognizable during the first year for which a Progressed chart has been cast after the Sun has moved into the next sign. Sometimes there can be events or situations which trigger significant life changes (relocation, graduation, job change, marriage, divorce, new home, etc.). Some of these could vividly high-light the influences of the Sun entering into a different sign.

As you read this report, look back over your life and try to remember if there were any events that could have changed your directions or goals when the Sun entered a new sign. You can count back to 00 degrees from the Sun-Sign degree of this chart to find the year, letting each degree count as one year. Allow about three years on either side of that actual date.

At the end of the thirty years that each new Sun-sign remains in the Progressed charts, the personality will have somewhat absorbed and assimilated the influences of all of these Sun-sign positions--and so with the new progressions to come. As in all Astrology, you have, and have had, free will to make choices. Those choices can be very significant in determining how much effect the Progressed Sun positions have in modifying your Personality Profile. Transiting planetary aspects to the Sun can also help you anticipate new influences and enhance the sense of timing. Hopefully, you will be able to make better life choices based upon an expanded base of information through astrology.

Your Progressed Sun is now in the twenty-first year of a 30-year cycle in the sign, Virgo. You have about 10 years left in this life-cycle.

PROGRESSED SUN IN VIRGO WITH NATAL SUN IN LEO--Whatever people with their NATAL Sun in Leo do is done with a concentration of purpose which compels success. They make true friends and if one must have an enemy, a Leo will prove more honorable and magnanimous than any other. You are practical, creative, philosophical, spiritual, and inspirational to others. Proud and intensely individual, you really want to stand out and to be recognized and appreciated for your unique contributions. Doing something well and being respected for it is extremely important to you. You cannot tolerate being in the background, taking orders from others, or being "just one of the team". You must put your personal stamp on whatever you do, and direct your own course in life. You need to have a place where you can shine, express yourself creatively, and be the one in charge. For you it is true that "all the world's a stage" and you secretly (or perhaps not so secretly) desire to be the Star of the play. You want to be great, and to receive the love and applause of an adoring audience, even if the "audience" is just one other special person. You need someone to believe in you and your dreams. Though you may always appear radiantly self-confident and independent, you are actually very much dependent on the affirmation, love, and recognition of others. You cannot bear being unnoticed or unappreciated.

When the Sun moves from NATAL Leo into Virgo in the PROGRESSED Chart, its greatest field of illumination is the world of work. It can be a very positive change, as it can provide the order and attention to detail that is sometimes overlooked by the Sun in Leo influences. It can help to bring order out of confusion. The desire for organization, knowledge, and detail are the constant order of the day in this Sun-sign. In Virgo there is not the need for recognition that Leo demands, and it is easier for you to work behind the scenes. It is also easier for you to change your mind and adapt to the conditions. You will not compromise on organizing, analyzing, and planning; but you can adjust more readily to doing the very necessary routine work that most others dislike to do. This attention to detail can overflow into other areas of your activities. Unlike under the influences of the Leo Sun, you are likely to be well organized in your personal habits, especially where they can affect your health. You probably practice "holistic" health habits, since your body is likely to reject artificial foods and medicines. Food can be especially harmful to you when you are angry. You need to avoid getting so involved with the details that you lose sight of the total picture. You also need to remember others in your life. Relationships can be difficult if you put expectations upon them that are hard to live up to. It is easy for you to develop a kind of tunnel vision and forget the feelings and needs of other people. Keep the bright influences of Leo: lighten up, look ahead, and stop once in a while to smell the roses.

PROGRESSED SUN IN 3RD HOUSE--The Sun in the houses represents the departments of life most strongly affected by individual will and power potential. The Sun "passes through" each house one time each year. Its influence "illuminates" and brings into focus the affairs of the house in which it dwells (or is passing through). In the PROGRESSED Chart, we fix that focus on the house occupied by the Sun on your birthday anniversary for the year the chart is cast.

Progression into the third house indicates a strong drive to achieve distinction through intellectual brilliance and mental accomplishments. You may have a scientific approach with an urge to know and understand the inner workings of life's processes. You are eager to investigate new things and explore all the possibilities in areas where you function. You will also want to travel. It is important for you to be able to express yourself and communicate your ideas clearly during this time. You need to watch for tendencies toward intellectual arrogance or snobbery, and be careful not to force your ideas on others.

PROGRESSED MOON IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

The close proximity of the Moon to the earth and its rotation around the earth causes it to pass between the earth and each sign of the Zodiac quite rapidly. It averages about thirteen degrees per day--a little less than three days per sign. Under the day-for-a-year progression system, it will take approximately thirty months, two-and-a-half years, for it to complete each life-cycle of the Moon.

The Moon is the only "planet" that could show up more than once in a Progressed chart in the same sign in which it was found in the Natal chart. Although these natal influences "imprint" our personalities and are with us throughout our lifetime, when the Moon appears in the same sign in the Progressed chart, it can give us an opportunity to modify even those natal imprints to some extent. In the delineations for the Progressed Moon-signs, we will include the Natal Moon-sign interpretations.

In mythology the Moon is always female--as the Sun is always male. In most ancient cults and religions, the Moon represents the female force which reflects the male force of the Sun. There were many ancient Lunar holidays and festivals. In modern religion, the date for the Easter holiday is still determined by the Moon's orbit.

In astrology, "she" dispenses her influences indiscriminately upon male and female alike, though each sex is likely to respond to the influences in somewhat different ways. The Moon-sign influences in the Progressed chart will affect the emotional side of your personality as it was imprinted by the sign the Moon was in at birth and modified by subsequent progressed Moon-sign influences. The intensity of the changes can range from deeply sub-conscious to dramatically emotional.

Your Progressed Moon is now at 17 degrees of an approximate two-and-a-half-year life cycle in the sign, Sagittarius. You should have, roughly, 14 months left until it moves into the next Moon-sign cycle.

PROGRESSED MOON IN SAGITTARIUS WITH NATAL MOON IN AQUARIUS--The NATAL Moon in Aquarius indicates a capacity to sympathize with the needs of humanity, and you probably also have flashes of intuitive knowledge about individuals. You seek freedom for your own emotional expression, and WILL expect freedom to come and go as you please within your domestic situations. You may have unusual family relationships, but your home is likely to be a gathering place for friends and group activities. You are idealistic, with a "One World" concept, and you have a constant concern for the underdog. You may be seen as a free spirit, but your serious side will project its influences effectively when you are sufficiently motivated and inspired. You will stick to a worthwhile cause and will find sources of ingenuity to further its consummation. You are ambitious, and are willing to utilize many resources and much inventiveness in order to succeed. The greater the scope of the project, the better you will like it. You need to beware of any irrational need for freedom at all costs, and fear of personal emotional involvements because they might pose a threat to your personal freedom. You could also have a tendency to emotional perversity and stubbornness.

When the Moon moves into Sagittarius in the PROGRESSED Chart, you may aspire to high goals but ignore life's realities. You are likely to be optimistic and cheerful. Sagittarius indicates a lofty, idealistic emotional nature. There is nothing shallow about you, and your intellect is sharp and ingenious. Your intuition will be enhanced to the depth of psychic understanding of what other people may be thinking. Intimate relationships could be difficult for you during this progression because you may not be a "touchy-feely" kind of person. You will also require freedom and independence in all your relationships, and your partners may not feel you are committed to them. This may not be an accurate presumption, but you may do nothing to refute it. You are likely to be somewhat idealistic in your ambition and profession. Your clever mind will adjust to almost any kind of activity. You could be successful in your own business and you would enjoy the challenge and variety, but you need to keep the goals realistic and down-to-earth. You may be drawn into a spiritual search for values you can accept during this life cycle, but then again, you might ignore the whole spiritual thing. Your attitude toward government and politics is likely to be pragmatic, and you may criticize but not vote. You could have difficulty in finding objectivity in your views of social issues.

PROGRESSED MOON IN 5TH HOUSE--The Moon will pass through all the houses of the Natal Chart approximately every twenty-eight days, making its daily and hourly influences very fleeting. In this house in the Progressed Chart however, any new beginnings made during the Moon's period in house four will be structured and solidified in terms of emotion, children, creativity, friendships, and speculation. It will be a good time to concentrate upon personal artistic and aesthetic endeavors.

PROGRESSED SUN-MOON SIGN COMBINATION

As in the Natal Chart, the blend of the Progressed Sun-Moon influences are extremely significant toward understanding the modification of the personality from that which was indicated by the Natal Chart. We urge you to review the interpretation in your Natal Chart. The interpretation of the Progressed Sun-Moon blend is printed next. Study it carefully, in addition to the delineations of Sun in Sign, Sun in House, Moon in Sign, and Moon in House. We suggest that you compare them also with the same interpretations in your Natal Chart.

PROGRESSED: VIRGO SUN AND SAGITTARIUS MOON--Virgo is a Mutable, earth sign while Sagittarius is Mutable, fire. The two signs are square to each other, and squares usually set up tensions and obstacles to be overcome in life's progress. When this combination is found in the Progressed chart, the tensions deal with tedious detail as opposed to expansive thinking. You can crave adventure, romance, excitement, and foreign exploration: one or all of these could give a lift to your mental process. You are humanitarian and thoughtful, and will be sincerely interested in education. You believe strongly in justice and fair play now. You are warm, friendly, and sometimes impulsive. You can dream the extravagant dream during this life cycle, but you can also attend to the minute details, and when that combination is achieved, the obstacle of the square aspect becomes a great asset. The key during this progression is to develop patience for the research ability to get to the bottom of these great new ideas, and to understand them thoroughly before going for the implementation.

PROGRESSED MERCURY IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

Mercury in the signs gives clues to the kinds of concerns that occupy your mind and reveals your psychological approach to making decisions and conveying your ideas to others. Mercury influences the kind of communications you have with other people throughout the year: those received as well as those you send. It indicates shifts in mental focus and intellectual attention as they are impacted by the influences of the Progressed sign. It can also indicate travel, such as short trips which don't upset the daily routine too much. You can usually count on not being bored by Mercury influences, and the daily routine is more likely to be intensified rather than subdued. On another level, Mercury IS the every day routine, indicating everything we are so accustomed to that we don't even notice it. On still another level, it may indicate a time when you should just sit and think.

Mercury takes a little less than thirty years to progress through the thirty degrees of each sign, so we may have a little "stretch" or a little "overlap" of influences when using the day-for-a-year progression system. We have tried to adjust the degree of Mercury in its current Progressed sign to give you some rough idea of how long it will be until it enters the next Progressed sign.

Your Progressed Mercury is now in the 5th degree of an approximate thirty-year life-cycle in the sign, Virgo. You could have, roughly, 26 years left in this cycle.

PROGRESSED MERCURY IN VIRGO WITH NATAL MERCURY IN LEO--Mercury in Leo in the NATAL Chart imprints the native with a strong will and a fixed purpose. You may have a dramatic and forceful manner of speech, and could be regarded by others as an authority on anything you address. You are a person of strong opinions and you express your views energetically and often dramatically. You are an entertaining speaker and you may embellish or exaggerate in order to get your point across. You have an aptitude for story-telling and performing. Whether your arena is the classroom or the dining room table, you put on a good show. You have an abundance of creative ideas and do not enjoy a job in which you have no creative input or voice in decision-making. You could be a good politician, spokes-person, group leader, director, or coach. Always seeing yourself as the leader could make personal relationships difficult. You need love and romance in your life, but will need to develop some empathy and understanding in order to make them work. You need to beware of your mental pride and arrogance. Learn to relax and allow the rest of the world to follow sometimes.

When Mercury moves from Leo into the sign Virgo in the PROGRESSED Chart, it brings you an analytical mind with great reasoning ability. It could bring some shade over the brightness of the Leo personality and tame some of the flamboyance. The influences of Virgo demand order and attention to detail. You will like orderly surroundings and efficient procedures in everything you do. You are likely to have already achieved professional success by acquiring special skills and a good education. Be careful not to let Virgo's picky perfection influences affect your fun and your relationships during this life cycle. Relationships can be difficult if you expect them to be perfect. You are still interested in ideas with a practical application toward financial success and personal status, but if you haven't already achieved that by now, don't let these influences turn you into a driven, anxious individual. Avoid letting details assume undue importance during this time, to the point where you could lose sight of the main issues relevant to this life cycle. Be careful to nurture your personal relationships for the sake of happiness and serenity. Keep expanding your interest in open and honest conversation, and remember to have fun.

PROGRESSED MERCURY IN 2ND HOUSE--Mercury in the houses deals with the practical affairs that occupy your mind, and shows what areas of activity will be influenced by your thoughts and communications. In the second house of the Progressed chart, it indicates preoccupation with business and monetary affairs. Your value system from this position is based upon production of concrete, practical results. You are likely to pursue education during this time as a means toward increasing your earning power, and could be successful in any field requiring good communications skills. You are likely to plan methodically now, and may have very original ideas for making money.

PROGRESSED VENUS IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

Venus in the signs indicates how you express your emotions in personal relationships. It also influences your attitudes toward money, personal possessions, creature comforts, and social and aesthetic values. Venus is a social planet, usually bringing people together for parties and good times. It is also the planet of LOVE, and its impressions combined with the influences of the signs can tell you quite a bit about your experiences in love and romance. It is also the planet of creativity: of artistic talent and entertainment. The influences of the different signs of the Zodiac can help to dictate the forms of expression indicated to display these talents.

The annual orbit of Venus is usually only five or six days away from the orbiting time of the Sun, so it fits the day-for-a-year progression system quite well. Though there may be a very little stretch or overlap, we are pretty safe in estimating a degree of progression per year for Venus, as with the Sun.

Your Progressed Venus is now in the 6th degree of an approximate thirty year life-cycle in the sign, Leo. You have, roughly, 25 years left in this cycle.

PROGRESSED VENUS IN LEO WITH NATAL VENUS IN GEMINI--With Venus in Gemini in your NATAL Chart you are likely to have a ready wit and keen conversational ability. You do like to talk, and you will be attracted to people with agile minds. You will pursue pleasure and social activity, even to the point of extensive travel. You crave freedom and may not be inclined to settle down with one permanent emotional relationship. In love, you are more interested in a person's sense of humor and intelligence than in their physique. You like a partner who is mentally alive and who keeps you guessing a little bit. You become restless and bored with someone who never asks questions, never changes or surprises you. Talking, sharing ideas, going places together, and learning new things together is very important to your happiness during this life cycle. A possessive, jealous partner would be extremely stifling for you. You need lots of social stimulation, are something of a flirt, and like to have many friends of both sexes. You dislike coarse behavior, but will like jokes and comedy. You are attracted to literary pursuits, especially to poetry with a play on words.

The Venus in Cancer progression would have restored romance and deep emotions to the relationships.

When Venus moves into the sign Leo in the PROGRESSED Chart, it brings a love of life and a life of love that could produce rather theatrical behavior. During this time, your affections may become strongly fixed, with a great deal of social pride. You will have a keen color sense and are likely to develop some expression in painting, music, sculpture, and/or other art forms. You will appreciate attention from others, and could be rather susceptible to flattery. In your romantic relationships you will want someone that you can be proud of and that you can show off to others. Good relationships can become better and more exciting during this life cycle, but you will not be patient with any relationship that becomes the least bit dull. When this happens, you may look for another. You can be extremely loyal to a significant other, but you can also be a bit jealous. You will feel warmhearted, outgoing, sunny, affectionate, and fond of children during this time. You need to beware of snobbishness, selfishness, possessiveness, and jealousy--because of your great social pride.

PROGRESSED VENUS IN 1ST HOUSE--Venus in the houses gives us information about how you may express yourself socially, romantically, and artistically in the various areas of your life. In the first house of the Progressed chart, it influences you to be socially outgoing, with a pleasing manner and friendly appearance. It could bring out a striking physical beauty as well. You should generally have a happy outlook on life, and your natural ability to mix well with other people should contribute to both good business and exciting romantic opportunities during this time. Artistic talent is also indicated.

PROGRESSED MARS IN SIGN AND HOUSE POSITION

Mars is energy and action. "His" influences provide means of expression for the influences of the other planets through direct action. It can express temperament, set fire to the emotions, activate ambition, spur romance on, and sometimes set the stage for accidents. In mythology, Mars is the God of War.

It takes Mars an average of about twenty-two months to progress into a new sign, depending upon Retrograde movement, etc. Therefore it will be difficult to establish an accurate time frame for the duration of the Progressed Mars influences. We use two years as an approximation, but the length of time left in each sign cannot be very accurate. However, each time you have a Progressed chart cast, the position of Mars for that year will be accurate.

Mars is now at 29 degrees of the sign, Cancer. It takes approximately 60 years for Mars to pass through one sign in the Progressed chart. You have, roughly, 04 years left until it moves into the next Mars life-cycle.

PROGRESSED MARS IN CANCER WITH NATAL MARS IN GEMINI--Mars in Gemini in the NATAL Chart imprints the personality with high mental activity and aggressiveness. You have an active and critical mind and are likely to have good mechanical skills. You are very ingenious and resourceful. Great restlessness is indicated, with the possibility of many changes of occupation. Ideally, you are most suited for occupations requiring many skills, including both intellectual and mechanical challenges. You will like to travel. You would make a good teacher, and could also write and publish, Progressed into the sign Cancer, Mars can make you intensely emotional, adding an intense emotional dimension to the intellectual influences of Gemini. The combination of influences can make you more bold, fearless, ambitious, and sensuous. You are likely to be more original and independent, and to rebel against authority. However, you will need to control sudden outbursts of temper and irritable tendencies during this time. You can become fond of luxuries, especially in your home. You could be attracted to metaphysical studies and the occult, and you are likely to become somewhat more psychic and mystical. You will need to practice self-control and to learn how to develop harmony and cooperation with others during this progression.

PROGRESSED MARS IN 12TH HOUSE--Mars in the houses indicates the departments of life in which you express your actions and desires. It shows where you need to exert energy and initiative in order to produce results. When progressed to the twelfth house, it indicates that desires and actions will be strongly influenced by the subconscious mind. You may wish to carry on work and other activities in secret or in seclusion. During this period, you are likely to be secretive about your desires and purposes. You could even have secret sexual involvements, since Mars rules sexual energies. You need to practice communications with your subconscious and open these secret influences to the light of your conscious mind and understanding. Spiritual guidance is indicated during this period.

PLANETARY SIGN AND HOUSE POSITIONS:

The rest of the planets take much longer to orbit through the signs and houses. Unless they were in the last few degrees of the Natal sign, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are probably still in the signs and houses they were in when you were born. If any of them have progressed into the next sign, the program will print the influences of the new sign as it compares to the old. It will only interpret the progressed house position. A major move in geographic location which changes the Ascendant may also change the house cusps and the signs on the houses.

PROGRESSED JUPITER IN TAURUS WITH NATAL JUPITER IN TAURUS--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long-term.

Jupiter in the signs influences your ethical, religious, and philosophical standards and beliefs, and how you may express those interests. In the sign Taurus in the NATAL Chart, Jupiter imprints the personality with the capacity for great love of home, possessions, and justice. Your nature is affectionate, peaceful, and generous, but reserved and firm--not much given to change. You love the material things, and could gain through metaphysical and philosophical endeavors, but you need to always be aware of the Universal Source from which all things come. They are given for our use, rather than for our possession. You are likely to have gourmet tastes and a liking for luxurious surroundings. Since Jupiter is often called the "Great Benefactor", you are likely to enjoy much material success. Beware of self-indulgence, stubbornness, and indifference to the needs of others. Avoid alcohol and drugs.

PROGRESSED JUPITER IN 10TH HOUSE--Jupiter in the houses indicates the departments of life and the types of activity through which you express your religious, educational, and philosophical ideas. In the tenth house progression, Jupiter influences you to feel strong professional ambitions to which honesty and reliability will be applied. You may hold public office, and will be looked upon as a pillar of the community. You have strong religious and ethical principles now, which you express through all your public activities. During this period, you need to watch out for tendencies to neglect domestic responsibilities in favor of your public activities, and to watch out for hypocrisy and false pride.

PROGRESSED SATURN IN PISCES WITH NATAL SATURN IN PISCES--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long-term.

Saturn in the signs indicates the areas in which you must accept responsibility, and the ways in which you must practice discipline and develop maturity. In the sign Pisces in the NATAL

Chart, the Saturn imprints can firm up the laid back, emotional Pisces personality. This can be a difficult position because the deep emotional feelings and intuition which are identified with the sign Pisces do not lend themselves well to the order and disciplinary influences of Saturn. However, when applied positively, the thinking mind can help organize your thoughts in therapeutic and progressive ways. You will require time alone for meditation and spiritual direction during this life cycle. With spiritual growth and greater spiritual understanding, this planetary position can provide great power for understanding and helping others. Try to avoid lazy procrastination.

PROGRESSED SATURN IN 8TH HOUSE--Saturn in the houses indicates the areas of life in which you must learn to act with discipline. In the eighth house it deals with your partner in the areas of finances, corporate money, insurance, taxes, and inheritance--if applicable. When it is found here in the Progressed Chart, you may be able to profit by using other people's money through skillful and honest management. Marriage can be a financial burden, however. You could suffer losses through alimony settlements. There can be a deep spiritual insight into life's mysteries while Saturn is here. Distressing dreams and psychic experiences could have a disturbing psychological effect during this time, but their purpose is to help you see the changes you have gone through and to help you develop an understanding of where you are going. You need to seek positive spiritual guidance to work through these times.

PROGRESSED URANUS IN VIRGO WITH NATAL URANUS IN VIRGO--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long term.

Uranus in the signs indicates the ways in which you express your urge for freedom and individuality, and how you establish your link with the Universal Mind. When Uranus is in Virgo in the NATAL Chart, it imprints the personality with a mind that is subtle, independent, and original. You are quiet, but could be stubborn and curious to the point of eccentricity. You seem to naturally know how things work, and are especially attracted to the occult for your link with the Universal Mind. You can be successful in the fields of health, science, and technology. Beware of erratic health problems, paying special attention to diet and mental control of bodily functions.

PROGRESSED URANUS IN 2ND HOUSE--The house position of Uranus indicates the type of activity through which you express your urge toward freedom and individuality. In the second house of the Progressed Chart, the focus will be on financial affairs and worldly goods. Avoid speculation in unproven schemes, and beware of the possibility of fraud in business associations. You are likely to be ingenious in your approach to vocation now, with unusual talents for making money. Practice rigorous honesty in all business affairs during this progression, and seek direction from positive psychic sources. You can succeed in artistic endeavors and efforts dealing with the occult. Avoid borrowing or lending money now among friends.

PROGRESSED NEPTUNE IN SCORPIO WITH NATAL NEPTUNE IN SCORPIO--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long term.

LAST IN SCORPIO IN 1970-NEXT POSSIBLE IN YEAR 2133--Neptune in the signs manifests more historical and generational influences than personal. It indicates the kind of cultural expression shown by the imaginative and creative faculties of mankind over a given period of time. Your personal responses to Neptune in Scorpio in the NATAL Chart are likely to be in sexual areas and psychological areas of escape. Both the influences of the planet Neptune and the sign Scorpio are dual in nature: material and spiritual. It is difficult to function in both levels at the same time, and often at some time in the life, a metamorphosis is experienced when the philosophical and spiritual influences sublimate the materialistic.

PROGRESSED NEPTUNE IN 4TH HOUSE--Neptune in the houses indicates how you express your mystical potential, and may reveal some of the karma produced by your past actions. When it progresses into a different house, you have to be careful not to fall prey to mistaken illusions, for anything connected with the affairs of that house may seem to dissolve and pass out of existence in a subtle, most imperceptible manner. In the fourth house the focus is on the domestic scene, and when Neptune moves into that house in the Progressed Chart, your domestic and personal life can undergo many strange and subtle changes. Psychological forces will be changing your inner self quite noticeably, and you may become attracted to spiritual and occult subjects as a direct result of your own experiences. On the positive side, you may begin to create the kind of ideal of what you have always wanted your home life to be, and certainly, you will make your home a more beautiful place. The other side of the position can indicate a source of confusion and difficulty because someone in your home is working against you, and it may be difficult to find out exactly what is going on--for it could just be in your own mind. This can make you less confident and secure, but what is really reflected here are the tremendous inner changes in you. It is a time to seek serious and positive spiritual guidance. Alcohol and drugs could be especially destructive now.

PROGRESSED PLUTO IN VIRGO WITH NATAL PLUTO IN VIRGO--When the planet is in the same sign in both the NATAL and PROGRESSED charts the influences are the same, but are just more long term.

1957-1972. NEXT POSSIBLE, YEAR 2220. Pluto in the signs is also historical and generational, but on the personal level it indicates permanent change. In Virgo in the NATAL Chart, it deals with work, health, and the practical application of technology. You are very organized and picky about details, especially where your work is concerned, and can be very capable of working alone. The areas of sex, drugs, and health are indicated as most likely areas for permanent change in your life. Seek guidance through prayer and meditation, striving to bring the feelings up from the subconscious into the conscious and practice good health maintenance.

When Pluto is still in Virgo in the PROGRESSED chart, the natal influences are enhanced and reinforced. The focus for regeneration is more likely to be outward rather than inward, and you may have more concerns about social and environmental issues. Do not neglect your own regeneration efforts, but keep practicing a healthy lifestyle. If Pluto is in this position in your Progressed chart, these influences will be with you for the rest of your life.

PROGRESSED PLUTO IN 2ND HOUSE--The second house focus is on money and material resources. Pluto's presence here in the Progressed Chart indicates that your values will undergo a complete metamorphosis, which will affect both your personal possessions on the material plane and your sense of values on the psychological level. If this should begin with a breakdown phase it could be very upsetting. However, the end result will not be lack of supply. The perception of needs could change now, and the attitude toward property could change completely. Metaphysical and moral values could become more important so that you no longer seek material possessions. This could take several years, but when completed, it is likely to be permanent.

PROGRESSED PLANETARY ASPECTS:

Following are the interpretations of the Planetary Aspects of the Progressed planets to each other. As in the Natal chart we use only the major aspects: Conjunction, Opposition, Square, Trine, and Sextile. These interpretations may be a little different from the Natal Chart interpretations in describing the influences, as they are presented from the same point of view as transiting planetary aspects. Rather than natal imprints, these aspects represent influences you have to deal with during the time of this Progressed chart. Some of the slower moving planets with aspects in the Natal Chart may still be in orb. However the program allows less than one degree of orb, so that the influences will be strongly focused on the year for which the Progressed Report is prepared. Because of this narrow focus and the tight orb, there are not likely to be very many aspects (if any) in this Report.

The following progressed Moon to progressed planet interpretation will last about 2 months and it will occur about 4 months in the future, that is about 4 months after the date given on the cover page of this report.

PROGRESSED SUN SQUARE THE MOON--This Sun aspect illuminates your personal, domestic, and emotional life so that you can observe and understand them better. In the Progressed Chart it will bring out all your subconscious attitudes. Take a long look, and it can be a time of great discovery. Consider your personal life, your domestic situation, and your close family relationships now. You might want to make some changes, as this is a time of new beginnings in your inner life--a sort of personal "new moon". It is a time for deep inner reflection.

The following progressed Moon to progressed planet interpretation will last about 2 months and it will occur about a year in the future, that is about a year after the date given on the cover page of this report.

PROGRESSED MOON OPPOSITE THE NORTH NODE--This aspect in the Natal Chart can indicate difficulty from bad timing--it seems that you are never in the right place at the right time. In the Progressed Chart, it causes you to have to draw upon your own resources all of the time because you cannot count upon the cooperation of others. The bright side of this aspect is that your ingenuity in making the best of bad situations gives you the capability for disciplined, well-planned, and concentrated effort. It builds strength of character, and you become accustomed to meeting adversity with courage and determination.

PROGRESSED MOON SEXTILE SATURN--This sextile supports integrity and good organization in professional and domestic affairs, as well as patience and practicality. In the Progressed Chart it indicates a "level head" rather than the inspired approach. You are likely to keep your financial affairs in order during this time, but if you are unable to do so, you could be prone to depression.

PROGRESSED TO NATAL ASPECTS

The Natal Chart is always significant in our lives, and it must be taken into consideration when interpreting any of the advanced charting efforts. The Progressed chart has moved the planets into new positions, sometimes forming new aspects with the fixed positions of your natal planets. Some of the aspects in the Natal chart of the slower moving (outer) planets may still be in aspect orb in the Progressed Chart. These aspects, and any new ones formed, will help to bridge the gap between the Natal and Progressed Charts. Because the program allows less than one degree of orb in order to focus the influences for the year the Progressed Report is prepared, there are not likely to be many planets in aspect--if any. If there are any aspects in orb, their interpretations will provide valuable information about influences you will feel during the duration of this Progressed year.

The following progressed Moon to natal planet interpretation will last about 2 months and it will occur about 6 months in the future, that is about 6 months after the date given on the cover page of this report.

PROGRESSED MOON SEXTILE THE NATAL MOON--At this time you are likely to establish a stronger relationship with old friends, parents, grandparents, siblings, and others you have a deep soul connection with. This is good time for home improvements and strengthening habits that build your sense of well being and inner peace.

The following progressed Moon to natal planet interpretation will last about 2 months and it will occur about 8 months in the future, that is about 8 months after the date given on the cover page of this report.

PROGRESSED MOON OPPOSITE NATAL VENUS--This aspect in the Progressed Chart can bring concerns about finances and the standard of living (aesthetics) into sharp awareness. Personality and emotions are heightened, making judgments take on an emotional direction during this progression. Beware of the tendency for criticism in emotional relationships. Cultivate patience and practice serenity.

The following progressed Moon to natal planet interpretation will last about 2 months and it will occur about a year in the future, that is about a year after the date given on the cover page of this report.

PROGRESSED MOON OPPOSITE NATAL MARS--This aspect in the Progressed Chart brings developmental tensions to the personality. Experiences may project energies into impulsive reactions. It can indicate a time of potential disruption to growth harmony from intense emotional energy. Resolutions of problems and removal of obstacles should be approached with careful planning and timing. Try to avoid impulsiveness and confrontation.

PROGRESSED MOON TRINE NATAL MERCURY--This aspect between the planet of emotions and the planet of intellect in the Progressed Chart can give you a good memory and a good working relationship between your conscious and your subconscious mind. It can enhance your conversational skills when in the Progressed Chart, and you are likely to be more interested in whomever you are communicating with. You can emotionally and logically understand and communicate the ordinary, daily life affairs, and probably have better business sense during this period than ever before. This is a rare supportive aspect.

PROGRESSED MERCURY OPPOSITE NATAL SATURN--This aspect could cause you to be suspicious and defensive. If you let it, this could lead to depression and anxiety, with a tendency toward scheming and underhandedness to justify and cope with your discomfort. There are likely to be obstacles to intellectual recognition and communication skills. Try to avoid looking on the dark side of the picture. Practice patience and learn to be open-minded.

PROGRESSED MERCURY OPPOSITE THE NATAL MIDHEAVEN--This is the time for a good hard look at your personal life, your goals, and your objectives. Cut through any self-delusion or confusion, decide what it is you really want, and make plans to go for it. This includes home, family, personal affairs, and financial obligations. Pay bills, and schedule your work for the near future. However, do not exclude a significant other's point of view--you could get tunnel vision now.

PROGRESSED NEPTUNE CONJUNCT NATAL NEPTUNE--Although subtle and easily overlooked, this is a time when you develop a new vision and dream for yourself. Experiences you have now mold become the raw material for developing a new sense of purpose and vision.

The two most fundamental energies in our birth chart are the Sun and the Moon. While the Sun is the most yang, projective, giving us our sense of individual self and purpose, the Moon is the most yin, receptive, providing us with the application of our purpose. The Sun is the light and life of our system. The Moon being the closest heavenly body to us controls the rhythm of the sea and all its creatures as well as the flow of blood in the human body. As the Moon distributes the light of the Sun each night, we experience this partnership and are able to understand their relationship in forming the personality of the human being.

Each night a different amount of light is given off by the Moon according to its changing relationship with the Sun. Within an approximate twenty-eight day cycle the Moon will have passed through eight phases, each phase lasting about forty-five degrees or three and a half days. These phases each have their own unique characteristics which influence all life on the planet. The first phase is the New Moon at which time no light is emanating from its surface. Beginning at zero degrees it will have completed its cycle at three hundred and sixty degrees.

One way to describe these phases is to use the analogy of the plant.

At the New Moon the seed is in the ground preparing for germination. It is implanted in a new beginning.

In the early degrees of the Crescent Phase, the sprout is drawn up from the earth by the initial impulses of light. During the remaining stages of the Crescent Phase the plant goes through a strengthening process, mobilizing its energies against the elements of nature.

When the First Quarter comes about, the plant has passed the initial stages of survival and is now sending down roots. By firmly anchoring its life force, the plant is able to concentrate its energies in the growth of stems and leaves with the tiny buds appearing by the beginning of the Gibbous Phase.

During the Gibbous Phase the plant is focusing on the reason for its existence. By ridding itself of everything superfluous, the culmination of its entire past from its beginning is brought to the moment of its achievement by coming into bloom.

The phase of the Full Moon is the completion. The work has been done and the gardener can stand back and assess his efforts. As the Full Moon progresses through its forty-five degrees the flower becomes the fruit.

The Disseminating phase is the harvest. The purpose of the plant is to now give back to the earth, to those who brought it into being and to nurture others.

By the time the Third Quarter comes around, the harvest is over, the abundance has been shared and what is left in the fields begins to decompose. The cycle is beginning to end.

During the Balsamic Phase the seed capsule is buried underground. It is clear that what was, no longer exists in its original form. This is the time of transition. The light of the Moon has grown very dim and by the end of this phase will have disappeared into darkness.

When we are born we come in under the influence of one of the Moon's phases. The degree will pinpoint its intensity.

NEW MOON

When a person is born under the influence of the New Moon it is thought that in terms of reincarnation, this person has been born into the first incarnation of an eight fold sequence. This person possesses a quality of spontaneity, thus, planning ahead is not always met with success. They view life as a grand adventure with unlimited possibilities. Living in the moment, the past is not important to them. Being born when the Moon sheds no light, they have come to learn to respond instinctually and to act on intuition. They are able to navigate without maps and arrive at their destination with time to spare. They are often criticized for being overly self involved, but there is a need for them to learn about who they are and to project it into the world.

Initial urge Instinct Projection

CRESCENT

A key word for the Crescent Phase is breakthrough. It is a time when what was begun during the New Moon is carried forward. It is a time of struggle because it often has to wrestle with the ghosts of the past which were in effect before the new cycle began. This new identity needs to overcome old standards, attitudes and structures in order to become fully functional as a whole and free individual. People born during a Crescent Moon often find themselves emotionally tied to the past. They may be drawn to habitual behaviors, wanting to stay within their comfort zones, feeling the need for security. They can be vulnerable to emotional blackmail, falling victim to those who want to "keep them the way they are", not supportive of their growth. Crescent Moon types may find it difficult to leave home until well into adulthood. It is imperative that they establish their life force in independence. It is important for them to understand that the first step is the hardest, but that once it is taken new opportunities will open up. Their final challenge is to take those opportunities and act on them.

Activation Striving Future

FIRST QUARTER

The First Quarter Moon can be referred to as "crisis in action". It is a time in which the challenge is to manage the energy which is released by crisis and then to restructure it into its new form. People born during this phase are able to rise to the occasion of any emergency. They are able to make split second decisions and act on them. They have the ability to tear down old structures and to recreate new ones. They are the pioneers, the trail blazers, the hero and the heroine. It is important not to unconsciously create havoc in their lives just for the sake of excitement even though the crazier it gets, the better they get. It is likely they will create conflict in the lives of those entrenched in the status quo. You may find them working in emergency rooms and driving ambulances.

Clearing Action Building

GIBBOUS

Those born during the Gibbous Phase have an innate desire for perfection. Having sharp, analytical minds, they have a need to understand. Looking at a subject from all angles, they experience sheer joy when delving into the core of the matter. Bringing things to the essence of their being, the truth will be revealed. They live their lives in anxious expectation augmented by the breath of the coming revelation. Children born at this time will not be happy with the answers, they will want to know why and how the answer came about. Gibbous Moon people make good apprentices as their goal is to learn all they can and become as good as they can get.

Perfecting Analysis Interpret

FULL MOON

The Full Moon brings about the completion of all the hard work that came before it. It is the time in which the structure having attained perfection experiences the urge to become infused with meaning and purpose, the breath of life. It is time when all that was instinctual becomes deliberate action, all that was felt before will now be made visible. The ideals are to be realized, brought forth into the world for all to have. It is the debut.

People born under the Full Moon are idealists. They may spend a lot of time searching for belief systems that they can relate to. Relationships are important to them and they need to be fully conscious of the effects their words and actions have on others. It is hard for them to find the ideal relationship in this material world and they will often turn to religion or an ideal cause. In looking for the right relationship, one needs to proceed through the clarity of the light of consciousness and not get caught up in the emotional bog of sheer desire.

Perfection Completion Conscious Illumination

DISSEMINATING

The Disseminating Phase of the Moon is the second phase of conscious operation. That which came into completion at the Full Moon is ready to be distributed now. People born during this phase are natural communicators. They are what they believe and their purpose is to spread it to the world. They share and communicate information acquired from their own experience. They are the teachers and philosophers. If they have no message to share they can become despondent. It is their lesson to realize that they are not responsible as to whether the message is received or not. It is not the role of everyone else to act on what they say, but it is the role of the person born in the Disseminating Phase to say it. They make good publicists and reporters as long as they believe in what they are saying.

Imparting Convey Awareness

LAST QUARTER

The key word for the Last Quarter is readjustment. It is the hardest to identify as many of its characteristics are hidden. As the First Quarter experiences "crisis in action", the Third Quarter experiences "crisis in consciousness". Old systems and values are becoming useless. It is hard for people born at this time to relate to life in the here and now. They often appear to be living in a world of their own, when in actuality they are going through an internal process of reorientation. They will present to the world an acceptable face as they are quietly developing on the inside. At the point when their own internal self has been completed, a brand new, fully developed person emerges. This butterfly is quite different from the caterpillar it had been, and is quite the surprise to those who thought they "knew" them. These people need the time and space to find themselves. If pressured to conform, they may revolt causing others to regard them as uncooperative and rebellious. As children, they require a lot of "alone" time and may need more rest than others as they process much in their sleep and in meditative states.

Readjustment Correcting Disillusionment Elimination

BALSAMIC

The Balsamic Phase is the last phase of the Moon's cycle. This is the time of adjustment from one cycle to another. It is the bridge between the past and the future. People born at this time are finishing an eight phase cycle of lifetimes. Therefore, this lifetime is a very karmic one. There is a pattern of very intense, all-consuming although short term relationships with people from the past including other lifetimes. These karmic ties are in need of resolution before continuing on into the next new cycle. These people often have pronounced psychic abilities. They are the visionaries seeing years ahead of their times. As children they often feel apart from their peers; they are loners. Balsamic Moon people are able to take the true meaning of a situation, distill it into its wisdom essence and plant it into the awareness of others. They are the gurus. Their job is the transmission of essential knowledge which will germinate at the next level during the next Lunation Cycle.

Incubation Preparation Closure Surrender

THE PROGRESSED PHASES

The progressed lunation cycle lasts for approximately twenty-eight years. This is in effect a macrocosmic illustration of the microcosmic monthly lunar cycle.

During a progressed New Moon people instinctively begin a new phase of their lives.

As in all new beginnings, the Crescent Phase will bring about challenges during the struggle forward in this new enterprise. Old friends may fall away, while new opportunities will present themselves, helping them get on with the business at hand. Sometimes they will feel as though they are moving in blind faith as old values and outmoded systems fall to the wayside, being replaced by new approaches acquired through inspiration.

The progressed Third Quarter presents a time of action in which the building stage is in full force. At the onset of this phase, sometimes still without tangible form, one instinctively forges ahead in a creatively progressive mode, until towards the end of the three and a half year period there is a sense of being grounded in the process now having something to work with.

The progressed Gibbous Phase brings about the stage of refinement. The techniques of the process which was begun is perfected now and fine tuned during this time.

The crucial stage comes with the phase of the progressed Full Moon. It is during this time that the fruits of ones labor are made obvious. The structure has been built and it is time to find the meaning, purpose and content of its creation. If one doesn't allow for a change in the way of operations from here on, the structure usually breaks down, for it is useless without a purpose. This time usually marks a turning point in ones life in which he realizes that he must gradually disengage from the way he has been doing things for the next fifteen years.

During a progressed Disseminating Phase, one is living out ones values accumulated through the period of growth prior to the progressed Full Moon.

When the progressed Third Quarter comes around feelings of dissatisfaction with the way things are begin to emerge. Perhaps a lack of interest in a once compatible system of living. Change is in the air although it is not in ones consciousness as of yet. Things just don't fit the way they used to and may feel like they are already becoming a part of the past.

The progressed Balsamic Phase is the time when one begins to sense the future and dedicates themselves to it. It is the transiting ending to all that was. Old issues and loose ends may come for review. As this phase progresses it becomes a time of enforced isolationism. One may feel like they are going crazy as it is hard for them to identify with things in the so called real world. They may think they have made a mistake, that there must be something wrong with them. Try as they may , they just can't seem to get with the program. It is at this time that one needs to understand that those things that are no longer valid or have passed away had a purpose, and that part of the fulfillment of that purpose was to make way for what is to be born. The Balsamic time is a time of meditation, of inner searching. It is a time of transition from DOING to BEING. People need to realize that it is O.K. to do nothing, to become receptive and allowing. People often retire during a progressed Balsamic Moon and sometimes pass on from physical life.

YOUR NATAL PHASE

Full Moon Phase:

Sandra, you were born during the Full Moon Phase of the Lunar Cycle.

It is possible that in the development of your personality there may have been a pull between the mother and father functions in your life and that until you came to a "conscious realization" of what you were projecting as an individual, your identity could have been somewhat unstable. It is apparent to me in your direct and concise manner of speech that you communicate clearly and openly with others. Your interest in astrology goes deeper than most people and this shows your need for meaning in your life.

“Anything in the Full Moon phase implies an inherent instability in that function UNTIL the person integrates the opposing pulls of the "parts" of his personality that make up that total function. He may be torn between two ways of handling things in that part of himself. This happens so that he can come to SOME NEW AWARENESS. The phase also implies that the function is, of itself, perfected as a function. It merely needs a purpose, a meaning, a CONTENT, outside of itself, that the ILLUMINATION the opposing pulls can bring could provide. Instability is the result of NOT integrating two polar forces. When one DOES integrate opposites he has reached a culmination of perfecting complimentary forces, ability to operate for a common goal.”

YOUR PROGRESSED PHASE

Your progressed Lunar Phase now is in the last third of the Crescent Moon Phase. Each phase lasts about 3 1/2 years, so the next phase will begin soon.

Being in the Crescent Phase of this new cycle you are becoming more aware of something new coming to life. You are now required to break away from the "ghosts of the past", and to move toward the new horizon which goes against the impulses of the past. We often meet with resistance from people who want to keep us the way we were or resist change as it occurs in our lives. Old friends may not "fit" as they had and will either adapt or fall away. There is a focusing of energy to get your life's direction off the ground. It seems that is all that matters.
