

Monthly Astrocast

December 2010

 The logo for Scorpio the Scorpion is a teal square with rounded corners. At the top, the words "Scorpio the Scorpion" are written in a red, bubbly font. In the center is a large blue Scorpio symbol (♏). Below the symbol, the dates "October 24 - November 22" are written in a light blue font. At the bottom right is a green Venus symbol (♀) with the text "Ruled by Venus" written below it in a light blue font.
Key Events:
New Moon (13:28 Sagittarius): December 5, 2010
Full Moon (29:21 Gemini): December 21, 2010
Retrograde Planets:
Uranus: July 5, 2010 - December 5, 2010 Mercury: December 10, 2010 - December 30, 2010

If you enjoy these monthly horoscopes and find them helpful, please share them with a friend!

--Whobeda

Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month the New Moon is in your nextdoor neighbor, Scorpio, your 2nd House of possessions, finances, income, needs and pleasures. This lunation will bring something new into this part of your life which will bring a variety of opportunities as well as a challenge or two. The challenge is likely to involve something residing in your 5th House which would be your ego, children, romantic interests, entertainment, speculations, hobbies and so forth and is likely to involve money or the lack thereof. Of course this is pretty normal for this time of year, especially if you have champagne tastes on a beer budget. Your Sign Ruler, Pluto, is settling into Capricorn, your 3rd House of thoughts, ideas, neighbors and short journeys, namely those errands and running around you do every day or trips to familiar places. If you aren't rubbing your hands together while softly murmuring "Muuuhahahahaha" then you clearly don't get the implications of that placement. For those of you who may be astrologically challenged, you certainly already know that you can sniff out information and secrets like a drug dog at the Mexican border. With Pluto in this house your thought processes which are already formidable will essentially be on steroids. This will be particularly true for this lunation since Mercury, natural ruler of communications and thoughts, is in partile conjunction (in the same degree) with Pluto but even for the long haul, having Pluto in Cappy for several years to come gives you an incredible advantage in this part of your life.

In addition, there are opportunities out there as well, at least one of which directly relates to Pluto and Mercury. Venus is in your Sign, having entered there again since coming out of retrograde in November. Venus in your Sign will enhance your natural charm and presence; your already project and this will magnify them even further. This, combined with your ability to perceive and synthesize what's going on around you should be able to garner just about anything your little heart desires. Another opportunity lies within your secret 12th House of angels and demons which comprises such things as enlightenment, inspiration, dreams, confinement, institutions, seclusion, hidden enemies (not likely from a Scorpio) and self-undoing. Saturn is currently residing there in Libra, house of Saturn's exaltation. While Saturn can be about limitations, he's also about structure, which implies manifesting something from this part of your life through this New Moon. Yet another opportunity lies with finding the means to do something you've fantasized about with regard to your home environment. Think about something you've wanted then watch for a chance to grab it.

The Full Moon is also a Lunar Eclipse which occurs in Gemini on December 21. Being an eclipse gives it additional punch which will be felt more internally while the accompanying Solar Eclipse in January may precipitate events. Gemini is your 8th House, Scorpio's zodiacal home and thus a familiar place which includes sex, death and regeneration, inheritances, shared resources, debt and transformations. By this time Mercury is retrograde and back in Sagittarius, implying you need to rethink a few things with regard to your 2nd House, the components of which are described above. Mercury is retrograde from December 10 - 30 so remember not to buy anything electronic or mechanical during that time. If you don't have your holiday shopping done by then, stick to clothes and food as gifts to be on the safe side. There are a few challenges associated with this eclipse which involve expanding something related to your 5th house of creativity, children, lovers and such. Resolving this dilemma can be assisted by maintaining that dream noted earlier with regard to your home environment, memories or cultural ties, which in some way will mediate the situation.

Daily and Short-Term Aspects

December 1: This is an excellent day to find a chance to promote yourself in a very positive way. Put on the charm and your thinking cap.

December 2: Watch for an opportunity to pursue something you've wanted with regard to your home environment or perhaps a dream or memory.

December 3: A radical change related to your income and your creativity, children or love life may take you by surprise today.

December 5: There will be no withholding information from you today. If you have research to do, have lost something or simply want to get to the bottom of something, you should be able to do so today. The New Moon occurs today as well, as described above.

December 6: Uranus comes out of retrograde and goes direct in your 5th House of children, ego, speculation, romance and so forth. This will stabilize all the disturbances you've seen in that part of your life the past few months and make a breakthrough or sudden change possible as opposed to fits and starts.

December 7: The Sun is in your 2nd House of income and possessions, needs and pleasures for two more weeks. Focus on this part of your life and manifesting something you've been dreaming of.

December 8: Another day for using your charm and penetrating mental acumen to figure out how to get something you want. Mars, your ancient ruler, goes into Capricorn, bringing his drive and ambition to your thoughts, ideas, neighbors and short journeys.

December 10: More thoughts and ideas with regard to something you want of a personal nature can bring some useful information for future use. Mercury goes retrograde today until December 30, making it a time to stop forward progress with your plans and look for something you missed or can improve in some way. Now is a time to rethink, revise, reconsider and re-plan.

December 13: This is very likely to be a significant day as Mercury, Mars and Pluto all converge in Capricorn, your house of thoughts, ideas, neighbors and such. Deep, penetrating thoughts and perception will assist you with any revisions or enhancements needed to get what you want.

December 15: You will have a tremendous amount of charm and a good bit of luck today in getting something you want. It's also a tremendous day for enjoying your children or romantic interests or just partying in general.

December 16: Something will come to light today that creates a challenge with regard to something you want to accomplishment. Obstacles, however, are part of the fun for Scorpios.

December 18: This is a busy day astrologically so expect a variety of things to happen. First of all, whatever you've been dreaming of for you home may suddenly appear within reach. A creative flash of innovation will also come to your assistance, particularly if a sudden challenge comes along. You may be reminded that you can't have everything you want, but that has never stopped you before.

December 19: Mercury backs into Sagittarius, prompting you to rethink some of your financial and income needs. If you've been working on revising or reworking your budget, you should have a few new ideas today, even if you don't particularly like them.

December 20: Something unexpected could throw another curve at your financial planning efforts. Engage your imagination and the power of visualizing what you want to work around it.

December 21: Full Moon today in Gemini, as described above. Expansion will be challenged, again based on revising your financial situation. The Sun goes into Capricorn, which will highlight and bring emphasis to your thought process, through which you can solve any dilemma.

December 22: Moving forward will encounter a few speedbumps today. Relax and put your thinking cap back on.

December 23: Being denied what you want or restricted will be particularly annoying but this, too, shall pass.

December 26: Another day when you will have x-ray vision as far as figuring anything out. Another great day for research and fact-finding.

December 27: You may need to suck it up a bit to make your wallet happy, but it will be worth it.

December 28: The problem with x-ray vision is sometimes you may see something you really didn't want to see. Use any annoyances to further fuel your determination.

December 29: Another day when achieving your dreams may seem impossible but it's just another speedbump.

December 30: Mercury comes out of retrograde, allowing your thought process to go forward again, resolve those financial dilemmas and progress toward your ambitions.

Copyright © 2010 Valkyrie Astrology
All Rights Reserved

Find out what's coming your way in the coming year with a Solar Return Report.