Lunations and Long-term Aspects

The New Moon this month occurs in Fellow Air Sign, Aquarius, on February 13. If your birthday is within a day or so of June 17 this lunation will trine your Natal Sun and most likely bring something new into your life that relates to your 9th House in some manner. This House comprises your beliefs, expectations, philosophy of life, higher learning, legal matters such as contracts, relocation, other cultures and long-distance travel. Other Twins are likely to see something in one of those areas as well, but possibly not as dramatic, though you can never really tell how these things will play out without comparing it to your specific Natal Chart. There are some interesting aspect patterns associated with this New Moon, in particular two overlapping Yods, also known as a Finger of God. The first one comprises Pluto, a conjunction between Venus and Jupiter and Mars at the eye, which translates to a favorable development of some sort with regard to your career, status or reputation will bring about a deep transformation, the two of which will set you in a different direction which should resolve some old issues you've been messing with.

The second yod swaps out Pluto for Saturn and changes the eye to the Venus-Jupiter conjunction in your 10th House of career. In this case it looks as if the mental energy to move forward on resolving an old issue may encounter some delays as you do some restructuring. This will be occurring in your 5th House of creativity, children, romance, ego, entertainment and speculation. This implies that you need to think outside the box, harness your creativity with all you've got, and think about how to effect a radical renovation with regard to your contribution to the world. In other words, if you're in a job where you feel unsatisfied and under-utilized, now is the time to give it serious thought regarding what you want and how to get there.

Rethinking some old misperceptions or hunting down new information is likely to have a long-term effect on your core beliefs in some way. This is going to bounce back and help that restructuring effort in some way. The long-term square between Saturn and Pluto is still operating as well. This dialog between two very serious planets looks as if it's trying to get you to completely transform some part of your life. Look to your 5th House for clues as well as your 8th, which not only includes transformations themselves but sex, death, shared resources and debt. Thus, this could also translate into the need to use some creative problem solving with regard to your debt load.

The Full Moon on February 28 occurs in Virgo, your 4th House of home environment, which should bring closure or shifting to a new phase for something in that part of your life. If your birthday falls within a day or so of May 31 the Sun/Moon pair will create a T-Square with your Natal Sun, which is likely to involve a challenge or conflict of some description. Jupiter and the Sun in your House of Career is bound to stir something up with the best case being some serious public recognition for something you did well and the worst case bringing something unfortunate you did to light. Pluto in your 8th House of deep, life-changing lessons will be doing his job for some time to come so recognize that you, too, are a work in progress and roll with the punches the best you can.

Daily and Short-term Aspects

February 5 - 7: Adjustments or a change of course related to your career are out there today, at least if you want to progress. If you've been squelching your creativity, it's time to rethink that. You also may have to take a chance or gamble on something coming out as you'd like because all the information may not be available yet for making a purely logical decision based on fact. Unexpected or disruptive events will play a part along with realizing what has been holding you back. Beware of being too idealistic or letting your imagination getting carried away without the facts.

February 10 - 11: Continue to give a lot of thought to your career, reputation and status and give heed to those nudges you're feeling. On the 10th Mercury enters fellow Air Sign, Aquarius, your 9th House of beliefs and expectations among other things, which will facilitate thought and action in this domain. Venus goes into Pisces on the 11th, bringing her favor and blessings to your public image. Now is the time to make that important presentation, ask for a raise, or go out for an interview.

February 12 - 13: Be on the lookout for Aha! moments today that will help redirect your course. Restructuring something related to your beliefs or other cultural interactions. News or information to assist with that restructuring matter should be free-flowing as well. The New Moon occurs on the 13th as described above.

February 14: Happy Valentine's Day! Venus should bring something positive your way today as far as your career or public image is concerned. You may even be able to make a silk purse out of sow's ear if you give it serious thought. Bear in mind, however, that what you're seeing might not be real.

February 15 - 16: Positive events in the public eye will have a transformational effect on you in a fortunate way. It's also a good day to nail down a creativity solution to that unresolved problem that's been lurking around lately. Don't blow things out of proportion, however.

February 18: The Sun enters Pisces today, bringing further light and information to your House of career, reputation and status.

February 20 - 23: Keep your eyes open for something to occur that is going to push you in the right direction as you continue to work at resolving old issues, taking appropriate risks, and exercising your creativity. More deep and profound understanding is coming your way as well.

February 27 - 28: You may watch a belief or some other paradigm disappear before your very eyes as it evaporates before the force of fact. Be on the right side of this revelation and it should bring positive attention your way. Full Moon on the 28th as described earlier, also.
