Lunations and Long-term Aspects

The New Moon this month is in fellow Water Sign, Scorpio, your 9th House of higher learning, legal matters, foreign travel, other cultures, beliefs and expectations and relocation on November 5th. If your birthday is within a day or so of March 4th this will have a more noticeable impact, in what should be a favorable way. Venus has been retrograde in that neighborhood since last month, which may be stirring things up a bit. Venus retrograde brings out her darker side, but this is not necessarily a bad thing since it can force you to confront your shadow side or perhaps your beliefs and expectations about money and/or relationships. If you have any self-defeating behaviors you should be able to identify them when this transit is finished. Attaining some useful enlightenment or inspiration is also possible, but make sure you stay within the bounds of reality, which, of course, is a bit of a challenge for most Pisces since that is not your favorite place by a long shot.

If your birthday is somewhere between March 13 - 19 you are especially likely to encounter some new insights or situations, also related to your 9th House as Jupiter and Uranus cruise along in reverse in your 1st House of personality. Surprises, disruptions, and increased understanding of yourself and your core beliefs are possible, though you can also expect some friction or annoyances as well. Moving forward with something that affects your career, reputation or status is favored this month with some long-term restructuring going on with your shared resources. Your involvement with others is emphasized for sometime to come so if you've been a bit reclusive it's time to get out and socialize.

The Full Moon on November 21 is in Taurus, your 3rd House of thoughts, ideas, neighbors and siblings which will bring a culmination or shift in phase to something in that part of your life. By this time Venus is direct in the tail-end of your 8th House of transformations, sex, death, debt and shared resources which should bring something favorable your way in this part of your life, perhaps unexpectedly. Just make sure you keep at least one foot on solid ground so that you move forward in a sensible manner. A change of direction or adjustment that comes about rather suddenly as you see things differently than before is quite likely.

Short-term Aspects

November 1: Focus on your core beliefs and any situations that are a direct result of them. This is meant to be a month of personal growth and seeing things differently, so pay attention. Focus particularly on your beliefs and expectations with regard to your income and relationships. Examine your goals, friends, group associations and whether they're inline with what you really want.

November 4: Sudden and possibly dramatic insights or possibly events are possible which will touch on your 9th House of higher learning, legal matters, relocation, beliefs and so forth in some way. This is also the house of politics and religion. Expanding your horizons is favored, so listen up.

November 5: New Moon in Scorpio as described above.

November 6: Unexpected or sudden inspiration and insights are quite possible but may not be feasible. Have one of your Earth Sign friends (Taurus, Virgo, Capricorn) give you a sanity check.

November 7: Venus backs into Libra, your 8th House of transformations, debt, and so forth. Consider anything in this part of your life that needs to change. Your sign ruler, Neptune, goes direct, which should help clear up your inspirational channels and bring things more easily to the surface.

November 8: Mercury enters Sagittarius, facilitating information and communications with regard to your career, reputation, and status.

November 10: Take a close look at your goals and whether your beliefs are properly aligned with them to make them so. If there are any roadblocks or obstacles you stand a good chance of finding them.

November 14: If something in your core beliefs or expectations is holding you back with your status or career ambitions it's likely to manifest today. Take note and make the necessary changes so you can move forward.

November 15: Continue to examine your beliefs, expectations and behavior and how they're affecting your personal growth.

November 17: News or information with regard to your career, reputation or status will tie back to your beliefs or, if a relocation is involved, create a bit of a stir. Figuring out how to create a more solid foundation is favored if you're paying attention.

November 18: Venus goes direct which will bring her blessings to your 9th House of beliefs, higher learning, legal matters, interactions with other cultures, relocation and so forth. If you've been deceiving yourself in any way you should be able to see things more clearly, perhaps in a sudden or unexpected manner. Jupiter goes direct, which will help you put all the pieces together move toward significant and beneficial personal growth.

November 20: News, information or communications related to career or status action are favored. If you feel as if something is holding you back, look in the mirror.

November 21: Full Moon in Taurus as described above.

November 22: The Sun enters Sagittarius, bringing more emphasis to your career, reputation and status. This is a very favorable time to promote yourself.

November 25: News or conversations related to your career, reputation or status is likely, but make sure you aren't over-confident or trip over your ego or it may mess things up substantially.

November 27: Insights and inspiration are out there as well as opportunities as they relate to institutions. If something comes along unexpectedly, don't overreact or say something stupid.

November 29: Venus enters Scorpio, bringing her blessings to your beliefs or other issues going on in your 9th House. Moving forward with your career may require a lot from you today. Keep your confidence high without being a buffoon.

November 30: Mercury enters Capricorn, facilitating communications with your friends and group associations. This is an excellent time for networking and reworking your goals.
