Lunations and Long-Term Aspects

This month's New Moon is in Virgo, your 3rd House of thoughts, ideas, siblings and neighbors, signaling something new in this part of your life. If your birthday is within a day or so of July 8th this will have a stronger effect as it will sextile your natal Sun which should bring an opportunity your way related to one of these areas. On the downside, if your birthday is right around June 26 you may be experiencing a difficult time as Saturn squares your Natal Sun, which is likely to be stirring up a few problems at home. Those folks should see an improvement by the end of the month but it will then be moving in on those with subsequent birth dates. If you're in that group, brace yourself as it can mean unexpected repairs around the house as well as various other things that may affect your bank account. Delays and obstacles are possible as well as an increase in your responsibilities or obligations. Efforts to move forward are frustrated but being able to work things out with your partner is favored, perhaps in a way that has a significant affect on your relationship as you make adjustments and possibly change course to deal with it all. It's also a favorable time to talk about old issues and get them resolved once and for all. As you let go of old perceptions you can expect new insights and understanding to come in.

The ongoing Cardinal T-square is still in force, which is most likely to causing challenges for those of you with birthdays around June 24. You will have already seen the effect of the Saturn square as well as various relationship issues and a few surprises that relate to your status. Your belief system may be in review as well. This lunation is a mixed bag with ongoing challenges yet enough positive effects to help you navigate through any problems.

The Full Moon on September 23 is in fellow Cardinal Sign, Aries, your 10th House of status, reputation, career and public image. This should bring a change of phase or perhaps an ending to something in this part of your life. It will probably bring some new challenges to the homefront and those relationship issues aren't over yet, either. You're likely to experience something unexpected around this time which will affect your beliefs or expectations. It's also possible it will relate to a legal matter, another culture, academia, or relocating and stir things up at home and with someone close to you as well. On the positive side, romance looks favorable as well as numerous activities involving your children. Speculations may go better as well. It's a favorable time for entertaining or working in a short vacation to get away from anything else that's stressing you out.

Daily and Short-term Aspects

September 3: This is an excellent day to solve an old problem. With Mercury retrograde since August 20 you've had plenty of time to be rethinking or reconsidering something and at this time you may have the brilliant idea you need to dig your way out.

September 4: Enjoy your home and family today with a new appreciation and additional insights for how much they mean to you and your life. An excellent time to plan a family outing or activity.

September 5: Moving forward with something related to home will encounter some annoying issues today which will put you back at the drawing board.

September 7: An unexpected change of course will be required today, perhaps related to money.

September 8: New Moon in Virgo as described above. That change of course will enjoy a boost today which should have a lucky element to it.

September 9: Efforts today may come to naught other than giving you a new perspective. Venus enters Scorpio, bringing her blessings to your love life, children, and speculations.

September 10: Jupiter backs into Pisces through retrograde motion. Jupiter retrograde typically stirs up ethics issues of some description which in this case should relate to your beliefs, legal matters, higher learning or even religion or politics.

September 11: Mercury comes out of retrograde today which will help you move forward on any plans or projects which have been stalled the last few weeks. Give it a few days, however, so he can start getting up to speed again, before buying anything electronic or mechanical.

September 12: A good day to deepen a relationship with a romantic interest or one of your children through a honest and candid discussion. It could also be favorable for researching speculations.

September 13: Expect something to happen at home that you're not expecting which will change your beliefs or views.

September 14: Pluto goes direct which will allow old relationship issues to surface for resolution.

September 15: Mars enters Scorpio which will bring an increase in energy and activity with regard to your children, entertainment, romance or speculation.

September 18: Major surprises or disruptions are possible to long-established beliefs as something surfaces with regard to a relationship. Opportunities to resolve it are favored as well.

September 19: If you've been unrealistic about something, expect to recognize it and adjust your course in some way.

September 21: New thoughts and information will bring about a major and sudden change in your beliefs, to a legal situation or with regard to another culture or relocating.

September 23: Full Moon in Aries as described above, just as the Sun enters Libra, your 4th House of home environment, bringing more emphasis to this part of your life and the activities there.

September 25: It's time to confront an old problem with a family member. If nothing else you'll have a clearer view of what it's all about and thus help you find an appropriate course of action.

September 30: A lucky break could come your way today or perhaps one of your children will do something to make you very proud. You will see your responsibilities in a new light as well.
