

Monthly Astrocast

September 2010

Key Events:

New Moon (15:41 Virgo): September 8, 2010

Full Moon (00:15 Aries): September 23, 2010

Retrograde Planets:

Pluto: April 7, 2010 - September 14, 2010
 Neptune: May 31, 2010 - November 6, 2010
 Uranus: July 5, 2010 - December 5, 2010
 Jupiter: July 23, 2010 - November 18, 2010
 Mercury: August 20, 2010 - September 11, 2010

*If you enjoy these monthly horoscopes and find them helpful, please share them with a friend!
 --Whobeda*

Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month the New Moon on September 8 is in fellow Earth Sign, Virgo, your 5th House of creativity, ego definition, children, romance and speculation. Mercury has been retrograde in that sign since last month, urging you to rethink something in that part of your life. When Mercury goes direct a few days after the New Moon you should have a pretty good idea where you're going. If your birthday is right around May 6th this will trine your Natal Sun and is quite likely to bring something good your way.

That Cardinal T-square is still out there messing with everyone in one way or another. For you Bulls this is likely to show up in the workplace, any service activities, and possibly your health. If your job is not everything you'd like, now is the time to be figuring out why and what you need to do to get there. This may require some major digging into your core beliefs and expectations which could unearth a few things that are affecting your progress. Pluto is retrograde in your 9th House of higher learning, relocation, other cultures, foreign travel, legal matters, politics and religion where he's busily digging away to expose something that's been buried with regard to something in this part of your life. He goes direct mid-month which will begin the process of exposing whatever it is that needs to be purged or eliminated so you can proceed. If you have a vision for your future, expanding it and moving toward it is going to depend on taking care of business in these other areas.

Uranus and Jupiter are going to be running/retreating neck in neck until February, mostly in your 11th House of goals, networking, friends, organizations and other group interactions. This is going to stir things up substantially in this part of your life. These two occupy one corner of that T-square, so for this month at least expect a lot of surprises, disruptions, disturbances and spontaneity, all of which are going to affect your work situation and other considerations. After that it will continue to make things in your 11th house unstable, so don't count on just about anything that comes along during that time. However, this pairing has been known to bring windfalls, so the surprises may be favorable as well.

Your Sign Ruler, Venus, is in cahoots with Mars for a while, too. This month they're in Libra, which rules relationships, implying some action in that area, which also incorporates what's going on at work. This could indicate a romantic encounter with someone you meet at work or any volunteer work you may do. If your birthday is around May 18 this may result in a significant change of course for your life. Your status could be affected in a favorable way as well.

The Full Moon on September 23 is in neighboring sign, Aries, your 12th House of angels and demons. This lunation occurs right across the base of that T-square which will send a tremendous amount of energy reverberating through it. Since a Full Moon indicates an ending, culmination or shift to a different phase, this may signal the curtain is finally coming down on whatever you've been struggling with as described above. You can always hope. By the Full Moon Mercury is direct, allowing you to think more clearly regarding any issues related to your creativity, children or romantic interests. Speaking of which, Mars and Venus are in Scorpio by this time, your 7th House of relationships, which certainly makes it a lot more interesting.

Daily and Short-term Aspects

September 3: The need to rethink something related to your love life, children, entertainment or speculation may become strikingly apparent.

September 4: Something or someone you work with in some capacity may provide some inspiration for what you'd like to be when you grow up, if you don't know already. Dreams are useful, but make sure it's not so far out it's only a delusion.

September 5: Moving forward with your ambitions on the job may clash considerably with something else that means a lot to you such as your children, a romantic interest or your speculations.

September 7: Something going on at work may bring about a change of direction with regard to your career, reputation or status.

September 8: New Moon in Virgo as described above. Expect to encounter increased activity with your goals, friends or group activities.

September 9: Moving in the direction of something that has a lot of appeal can occur today. Venus moves into your 7th House of relationships, which may bring someone new into your life.

September 10: Jupiter backs into Pisces through retrograde motion. This transit will help you assess what you're really looking for in life and setting appropriate goals for getting there. Don't procrastinate.

September 11: Mercury goes direct, allowing you to finalize your ideas with respect to your creativity, children, or love life.

September 12: Your new love interest or a female you're close to can help you define what you're looking for in life. Listen carefully.

September 13: Something at work will upset the applecart and necessitate some changes to your goals. Your friends may spring something unexpected on you as well.

September 14: Pluto comes out of retrograde, allowing ruminations relative to your beliefs to break the surface of your consciousness, particularly for those born right around April 23.

September 15: Mars goes into Scorpio, bringing his energy to your 7th House of relationships, where he's continuing to consort with Venus.

September 18: Expect something significant to take you by surprise today. It's also an interesting day for pondering your core beliefs, especially about relationships.

September 19: Be prepared to change directions today with respect to your status, perhaps due to something involving your children or romantic interests.

September 21: More surprises are likely today, so be prepared.

September 23: Full Moon today in Aries just as the Sun goes into Libra, bringing emphasis to your house of work and health.

September 25: Time to focus on your job or health, whichever is bothering you the most. Examine your expectations to determine whether you're setting yourself up for disappointment.

September 30: This could be an important day with regard to your relationships, friends, or group activities. It's also likely to highlight your responsibilities on the job in some way.

Copyright © 2010 Valkyrie Astrology
All Rights Reserved

How are you evolving as a person?

Find out with a Secondary Progressed Chart Report!