Lunations and Long-term Aspects

The New Moon/Solar Eclipse on June 1st is in your sign, Gemini, and will have considerable impact for those of you born within a day or two of June 2nd. Solar eclipses typically bring external events and situations your way, which in this case will affect you at the personal level and probably have a significant, long-term influence. Saturn has been retrograde in fellow Air Sign, Libra, since the first of the year and will go direct mid-month. Libra represents your 5th house of ego expression, creativity, children, romance, entertainment and speculation so Saturn has been ruminating on this part of your life and is about to reveal to you something there which needs to be restructured. The good news is that this eclipse is going to provide substantial assistance in figuring out exactly what that happens to be. Mercury, Venus and Mars in your 12th house of inspiration, enlightenment, institutions, seclusion, hidden enemies, self-undoing and dreams will lend some help as well on the spiritual level with your sign ruler, Mercury facilitating communications at this level, Venus providing her blessings and Mars giving you the kick start you need to take appropriate action.

There is some conflict you'll have to deal with however, so bear that in mind as well. Saturn is trying to help something manifest in your house of creativity and such as stated above but there is some resistance from Pluto and Uranus. Pluto is in Capricorn for the long haul, your 8th house of transformations, sex, death, shared resources, debt and intense experiences. Anything in this part of your life which has unresolved issues needs to be addressed at some point during this transit and the implication is that something there is conflicting with your future creative direction. For example, you may want to move forward with a creative endeavor but have money problems holding you back.

Uranus is in the game as well from Aries, your 11th house of friends, groups, organizations, networking, and goals. Uranus is all about disruptions, unexpected events and breaking free, so this implies that either something unexpected such as an obligation to a group may get in the way. On the other hand Uranus also rules innovation and groundbreaking ideas which may require a whole lot of creativity and attitude transformations to pursue. At any rate, the going is not all going to be easy, though the end result should be to your liking.

The Lunar Eclipse/Full Moon on June 15 is in your polar sign, Sagittarius, your 7th house of relationships. This implies some emotional action in this part of your life. If your birthday is within a day or so of June 16 this will have the most impact. Mercury is in Gemini enhancing your already strong mental abilities and Venus is there as well, providing some extra charm to help you negotiate anything that needs to be resolved. A change of course is coming as the natural consequence of something, most likely a major change of attitude or understanding. Spiritual growth and understanding is favored at this time, but watch out for anyone trying to undermine your efforts and if you have any self-defeating behaviors, take a good, hard look at them as well.

Now that Neptune has moved into fellow Mutable Sign, Pisces, your 10th house of career, reputation, public image and status, you can expect some interesting insights in this part of your life as well. Neptune rules Pisces so functions very well there, but this energy is quite contradictory to your normal, logical approach to life, unless your natal Mercury is in Cancer, which will give you a little more emotionalism with regard to making decisions. Neptune in this house can cause anything from blatant inspiration to total confusion. It can provide a very charitable nature which drives you to want to change the world for the better or help others.

If your current career doesn't employ some measure of compassion or contribution to the collective consciousness you may have an acute sense of that lack and feel drawn to something which fits that innate desire. With a major restructuring coming to your ego definition, creativity, romantic life, children or speculative ventures, this would be a possibility to assess for career potential. However, the 10th house component simply called "status" has a wide variety of meanings, much as it does on Facebook. Status includes virtually anything you may find in the newspaper or public record such as licenses and property ownership. If you're fired or promoted it's 10th house and if you're arrested or honored it is as well. Thus, there's some chance it won't be about your career at all, so be sure to consider this side of it as well if your career is stable and you have no desire to do something else.

Nonetheless, there will be changes this month, a few adjustments to where you thought you were going, and a few revelations worth noting. Especially those of you with birthdays on June 2nd and 16th can expect to experience something of significance and possibly major change.
