Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month the New Moon is on September 5th in Virgo, your 8th house of transformations, sex, death and regeneration, debt, shared resources, and intense experiences. This is not necessarily something ominous, it could be something like a major purchase that involves a large loan or mortgage. Whatever it happens to be, it is likely to take you by surprise, involve family or work in some way and bring about a change of direction, particularly if your birthday is right around February 2nd. If there's something you've been refusing to deal with or suppressing subconsciously this event could act as a catalyst for resolution. Maintaining a philosophical attitude is favored which can be helpful if it's a difficult situation which also has the potential for changing your outlook in some way. A status change regarding a relationship is likely which could also influence your income. There are a few red flags with these aspects so it's probably a good idea to not take any unnecessary chances financially this month.

The on-going T-square between Jupiter, Uranus and Pluto is still in effect which seems to have made for a year so far filled with a variety of disruptions, disturbances and surprises. It's no longer exact but still viable and is tied into this lunation as well. Jupiter is in Cancer, sign of his exaltation, and your 6th house of work, service, health and pets. It seems as if various family issues have arisen with this transit through the sign that rules family. The opposition to Pluto would stir up old, unresolved issues of all varieties, particularly with this bad boy in your 12th house which includes inspiration, enlightenment, hidden enemies, self-undoing, institutions (e.g. hospitals and prisons), confinement and seclusion. Uranus is in Aries, your 3rd house of thoughts, ideas, siblings, neighbors and local travel which may have resulted in lots of unexpected situations or disruptions related to this part of your life. You may have found yourself called upon to render help to someone which involved lots of errands or perhaps your thoughts have been highly occupied with family or health issues.

The Full Moon on September 19 is in Pisces, your 2nd house of income, possessions, finances, needs, comforts and pleasures which indicates a culmination or shift to a new phase of something in this part of your life. This ties in with the New Moon's influence on this part of your life and may reflect the results of that situation. Saturn is sextile Pluto which continues to influence your status, public image or reputation in some way. Events close to home could have an influence on your status, perhaps as you step forward to handle an unexpected situation with a sibling or perhaps in your neighborhood. If your birthday is right around February 5th news or information related to your 9th house, which includes legal matters, religion, politics, philosophy of life, higher learning, other cultures and long-distance travel is possible, such as news from someone far away or even a call to jury duty. This may create the need for some adjustments related to work or service activities. An unexpected status change which could relate to taking on more responsibilities could cause some conflict with a relationship, even though this person is pleased with the change. Clear and honest communication showing consideration for each other's point of view should be able to resolve it.

On September 22 the Sun enters Libra, a Cardinal Sign, which marks the Autumnal Equinox as well as the start of a new season, i.e. fall in the Northern Hemisphere and Spring in the Southern where it will actually be the Vernal Equinox. This is known in astrological circles as the Libra Ingress with the chart cast for that event indicative of the general theme for the coming three months. It is used mostly in weather prediction (such as that found in The Old Farmer's Almanac) as well as mundane and geopolitical astrology. I haven't used them for individuals so this is purely speculative and experimental to see if it works. I always welcome feedback on the horoscopes. For Aquarians, especially if your birthday is between January 31 - February 5 you may encounter an unexpected increase in responsibility and status that comes with a price because it conflicts with your home life generally and perhaps one relationship in particular. It could be selfishly motivated or perhaps a matter of jealousy. (This aspect is the same one mentioned above for the Full Moon but will continue into the next quarter, showing it won't be resolved quickly.)

The Pluto - Uranus square is still in effect and indicates continued housecleaning at the subconscious and spiritual level. Unusual thoughts, situations and information can be expected which will trigger deep introspection, especially related to past experiences and memories. If your birthday is right around January 20 you may notice that this ingress tends to bring significant events into your life which should tend toward being positive. This is because your Sun is either 0 Aquarius or very close to it and is thus trined by the Libra ingress Sun. Neptune is unaspected in your 2nd house of income, possessions, needs, comforts and pleasures which suggests confusion or indecision with regard to these issues. Nonetheless, remember that some financial astrologers believe that Neptune is the planet which brings substantial gains which I believe comes through exercising the Law of Attraction. If you're unfamiliar with this concept the link near the top of the page for "The Secret of Deliberate Creation" can bring you some valuable information on how to make that work.
