Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month the Full Moon is in Capricorn, your 8th house of transformations, sex, death and rebirth, debt, shared resources, things you suppress and intense experiences, as if you couldn't figure that out from the other stuff. This type of lunation usually brings and ending, culmination or shift to a new phase which is likely to have an important impact. If your birthday is right around June 11 it could even bring about a change of direction or require an adjustment. The Sun is in your 2nd house of income, possessions, finances, needs, comforts and pleasures opposing the Moon, which is of course the definition of a Full Moon. This brings attention to that part of your life, which is also likely to be involved.

On the positive side, both Venus and Mercury, your sign ruler, are in your 1st house which is favorable even though it doesn't last long. For this lunation Venus is conjunct your natal Sun if your birthday is right around June 14 which will make other more receptive to you and perhaps even enhance your physical appearance, making it a good time to update your profile picture. Venus is trining Mars in fellow Air Sign, Libra, which is your 5th house of creativity, ego definition, children, romance, entertainment and speculation which suggests taking action on something in this part of your life. Working at increasing your income is still possible but Jupiter is about to leave your 2nd house so this is your last chance to do so with cosmic help, especially with that semisextile with Mercury. If your birthday is right around the solstice but still in Gemini this will be especially strong for you and offers some assistance in communicating matters that relate to money or your needs. It will take some effort but could pay off nicely.

Saturn is in your 6th house of work, health, pets and service where he's going to station direct on July 21. While retrograde he tends to operate on the subconscious level with regard to something that needs to be restructured or rebuilt which will relate to this house. Once he goes direct you'll know what it is if you don't already. If your birthday is right around June 7 this will be quite strong. Furthermore, Saturn is in a partile (same degree) quincunx with Uranus who's in Aries, your 11th house of goals, hopes, wishes, friends, organizations, groups and networking. This aspect will last until at least the end of August with that staying power really packing a punch.

Uranus in the 11th has various implications including unique approaches to your goals, unusual goals, unconventional friends or even rebellious groups or organizations who are pushing for social change. Something along those lines is going to be working with Saturn to makes some changes relative to your work or service activities with a chance it could relate to your health as well. For example, unusual group activities such as wanting to run a marathon would necessitate some changes in your fitness plan. Remember this aspect will be in effect through the end of August and work with it accordingly.

The New Moon on July 26 is in Leo, your 3rd house of thoughts, ideas, siblings, neighbors and local travel. If your birthday is right around May 25 it will sextile your natal Sun and perhaps bring a new idea or short trip your way. Jupiter is conjunct the lunation which will inflate its effects. This is not necessarily good since this trio is squaring Mars in your above mentioned 6th house of work and health. Mars was hung up in Libra for way too long to suit him since it's the sign of his debility where he can't function very effectively and his stay was extended due to that retrograde gig he had a few months ago. He is raring to go and now he's in Scorpio for which he is the traditional ruler. Mars on a rampage in your house of work and health throws a rather significant caution flag, especially if your birthday is between May 22 - 25. This is another aspect with the potential for a change of direction though it will not be of as long of duration as the one with Saturn and Uranus, which as you remember is still in effect as well.

Venus and Mercury have both moved into Cancer, your 2nd house of income, finances, possessions, needs, comforts and pleasures which could bring some luck or information your way in that area. With all that action in your house of work some fortunate vibes in your house of income is probably a good thing. Venus is opposite Pluto in Capricorn, your 8th house of transformations, debt, shared resources, sex, death and regeneration which could indicate that any windfall will simply go toward something in that part of your life, kind of like when your income tax return goes toward paying off those credit cards. Venus does make a quick trine to Neptune in your house of career and status, however, which could bring some inspiration in how to sort things out.
