Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month is relatively normal astrologically other than another Mercury retrograde period coming up June 7. Mercury throws it into reverse in your sign and this will be on your natal Sun if your birthday is right around June 25. If that's you then you are very likely to find yourself going back and finishing up an old project, rethinking it or reconsidering some past decision. As always, moving forward or initiating a new endeavor is likely to be a bust and general waste of time and effort. Of course also remember to refrain from buying anything new, especially if it's of an electronic or mechanical nature. About the worst thing you could buy at this time is a car unless you enjoy owning a lemon. There are some interesting features of the retrograde station chart that will influence the character of this gig as well. For example, there's a yod, a.k.a. finger of God, which could affect those of you born around July 9 or so.

Saturn is at the eye, another planet that's retrograde until July 20. Saturn RX relates to restructuring or rebuilding which is going to relate somehow to your 5th house of creativity, children, ego definition, romance, self-expression, entertainment, or speculation. The planets at the base are the Sun in Gemini and Uranus in Aries. Gemini is your 12th house which includes your subconscious mind, inspiration, imagination, self-undoing, hidden enemies, institutions, seclusion and confinement which the Sun's presence will emphasize. Aries is your 10th house of career, reputation, public image and status where status involves a plethora of possibilities, such as anything about you that could be in the public record, newspaper or social media.

Thus these three planets suggest some inspired creative restructuring that will affect your public image or career. It could also represent a time when you take a break for self-renewal or reinvent yourself in some way. Remember this is all in concert with Mercury RX which is a time to rethink and reconsider with the bulk of that energy occurring in your 1st house and thus relating to you at the personal level.

The square from stationing Mercury to the Moon, your sign ruler, which is in your 4th house of home environment at the time suggests your home life, memories, or cultural roots could be presenting a challenge at this time or perhaps you're considering some new endeavor since beginnings and endings also relate to this astrological house. Your beliefs and expectations or philosophy of life may be in question these days as you perhaps discover life has changed your view of the world. Making a few adjustment in this area are likely to help you resolve the situation. Pluto is still in your 7th house of relationships which is probably bringing out a variety of issues that could relate to power, control or the need to eliminate certain behaviors related to those close to you. This includes not only your significant other but close friends and relatives, business partners, business professionals, cliental, competitors and open enemies. Those individuals who are no longer useful may exit from your life during this transit which is going to last for several years.

Pluto excels at eliminating corruption and healing as well as purging what you no longer need such as old baggage. Various changes of heart and direction could come about during this retrograde period if you identify certain people who are more trouble than they're worth. Mercury eventually backs up enough to reenter Gemini, bringing his energy to your subconscious. He may also bring inspiration with regard to things that may be bothering you beneath the surface so that you can deal with them openly. Make sure of this time as needed for any emotional healing that needs to be done.

The Full Moon on June 12 is in Sagittarius, your 6th house of work, service, health and pets. It also includes employees or anyone who works for you in some capacity. If your birthday is right around July 15 Jupiter will be conjunct your natal Sun at this time which could tend to exaggerate anything that goes on at this time. He is also connected with the Full Moon, exaggerating its effects as well. You could overreact as well or be oversensitive.

Usually a Full Moon brings an ending, culmination or shift to a new phase so it could indicate the emotional ending to a project of some sort or perhaps even a health issue. Some of this is going to derive from the subconscious level so you may not understand your reaction yourself. Friends could be important at this time in helping you work through old issues or baggage. Balancing the demands of home activities with work demands and responsibilities could be a challenge since surprises and disruptions are likely and if there's anyone in your life who is a control freak they are likely to be less than enchanted by a hectic, erratic schedule which in turn may set you off as well. Be sure to find time to relax and enjoy yourself no matter how busy things are to maintain your well-being. Otherwise you may explode in a way that will cause permanent harm.

The New Moon on June 27 is in your sign and parked on your natal Sun if your birthday is right around June 27. Remember this is coming into solar return time for you as well so if this is your birthday this lunation will be with you all year long. You can purchase your solar return report for the coming year which will give you a good idea of what to expect as far as major themes are concerned in our store here. It looks as if this New Moon brings more energy your way to deal with subconscious issues that are affecting your belief system.

It's not easy to let go of old, long-held beliefs but sometimes they hold you back from reaching your full potential, especially when they relate to your confidence level and what you think you are capable of achieving. For example, if an opportunity came along for a promotion you may not want to accept it because you think you couldn't handle the additional responsibility where indeed you could. So if there's something you'd like to do but don't feel capable take this cosmic energy to deal with it and let it go. It will take some effort but be worth it. Mercury doesn't station direct until June 30 so this entire month has a lot of indicators to rethink and reprocess information that is likely to be largely at the personal level and help you evolve as a person to your highest potential. Put it to work any way you can.
