Lunations and Long-term Aspects

This month is not nearly as crazy as the last two have been. At least Pisces wasn't hit in the headlights by the Cardinal Grand Cross though of course it could have nailed something else in your chart and stirred up a few things. Hopefully you were one of the lucky ones who sat back and observed the chaos all around you. Worst case you may be cleaning up the mess left in its wake. So the good news is that things should calm down, at least a little, though Mars stationing direct on May 20 is likely to get a few other things moving again. I, for one, am glad because being on a treadmill going nowhere is not much fun, either. Mars has been in Libra, your 8th house of transformations, intense experiences, sex, death/rebirth cycles, shared resources and things you suppress for quite a while due to this retrograde gig. If your birthday is right around February 28 he will station direct quincunx your natal Sun which could bring a transformational change of direction. Mars in the 8th is a transit that throws a huge caution flag as it is but even though events associated with this house are often life-changing that is not always a bad thing. Mars is subdued in Libra, sign of his debility, so that is something in your favor, but Mars in the 8th often can make you more accident prone and inclined toward experiences related to that house. So I hope y'all are doing okay, I need all the clients and followers I can get. :-)

The Full Moon on May 14 is in fellow Water Sign, Scorpio, your 9th house of beliefs, expectations, higher learning, philosophy of life, religion, politics, long-distance travel, other cultures, and relocation to name a few. This type of lunation typically indicates an ending, culmination or shift to a new phase so look for something in that part of your life that fits that description. It's interesting to ponder that high school and college graduations often occur at this time so if you know anyone wearing a mortar board this month that could be your vicarious experience unless it happens to be you. So that's just one example, obviously not all Pisces are graduating and Scorpio is the natural 9th for only Pisces and those with a Pisces ascendant so graduation doesn't apply to everyone as far as this lunation is concerned. Primarily this is your house of beliefs which may shift at this time.

Saturn is retrograde in that same house until July 20 which will continue to bring about some delays and obstacles, particularly in that area. Your traditional sign ruler, Jupiter, is trining Saturn from Cancer, another Water Sign, which suggests those of you born right around March 9 will participate in a Grand Water Trine at this time. This constitutes a very nice, harmonious flow of energy that can expand your creativity, self-identity, romantic prospects and opportunities to enjoy yourself to the point of changing your mind about something such as a deeply held belief.

Venus and Uranus are conjunct in your 2nd house of income, finances, possessions, needs, comforts and pleasures which suggests a pleasant surprise of some sort and may bring good news that could bring about a new beginning or something related to your home environment which will have an important influence on your goals, even though some work and challenge will be involved.

The New Moon on May 28 is in fellow Mutable Sign, Gemini, your 4th house of home environment, cultural roots, memories, endings and new beginnings. This suggests something new which ties in nicely with the implications of the Full Moon. By this time Mars is no longer retrograde which indicates moving forward immediately is favored. Your sign ruler, Neptune, contentedly moseying along through your sign, is involved which could bring about some confusion that may shift things slightly from their original intent but shouldn't entirely spoil it. If your birthday is right around February 26 this is most likely to affect you. Nonetheless, it looks like good news related to money could be coming your way, just make sure you understand any conditions involved and don't count your chickens until they're hatched, if you'll forgive the cliché.
