Lunations and Long-term Aspects

The Full Moon this month is on September 8 in fellow Water Sign, Pisces, your 9th house of higher learning, long-distance travel, other cultures, philosophy of life, legal matters and relocation. Typically a Full Moon brings an ending, culmination or shift to a new phase which is likely to be most pronounced for those of your born right around July 9. With the Sun in Virgo, your 3rd house of thoughts, ideas, siblings and neighbors, it's likely that this part of your life is seeing some action as well. Of course this makes sense when you think about it since your ideas and information come first then you process them and incorporate them into your belief system. Venus is in Virgo and thus your 3rd house as well which could bring thoughts of home, family and friends. Her opposition with Neptune suggests the need for balance, however, in seeing things the way they are. Maintaining a positive attitude is a good thing provided it doesn't go too far and become delusional.

Saturn is tied into this lunation in your 5th house of creativity, ego definition, romance, children, entertainment and speculation. Saturn relates to discipline, responsibility, tradition and structure which implies this lunation may bring thoughts to this domain as well. The connections are positive, making it an excellent time for getting organized. Uranus is still hanging out in your 10th house of career, reputation, public image and status which will bring a variety of disruptions and surprises along with the potential for a hectic pace in this part of your life. Managing this will be a challenge and is likely to be on your mind along with ideas on how to get organized. All this action will ultimately bring an increase in your income or perhaps ultimately tremendous satisfaction so stay the course.

With the exception of a few days, Mercury is spending the month in your 4th house which will facilitate communications with family members and perhaps stir up a few memories. Enjoy them and put them to good use. It may not be all fun and games, however, but could present an opportunity to talk through anything that needs to be addressed.

If your birthday is right around July 3 Pluto is opposing your Sun from your 7th house of relationships which suggests some unresolved issues in that part of your life. One way to sort through these could include taking a close look at whether your personal needs are being met. Cancers tend to be nurturers but that also sets you up to give too much, leaving yourself drained with the danger of becoming burnt out. If you feel as if you fit this category then take a close look at how you can take better care of yourself and let those who tend to suck you dry know that you love them yet will no longer be at their beckon-call. This, of course, all ties back to that lunation in your 9th house of beliefs and expectations. Pluto stations direct on September 22/23 so this will yield a burst of energy in this area. Put it to good use. Pluto is about power and control as well as cleaning up old messes and letting go of the past. If someone in your life is too controlling this may be the time to deal with the situation.

The New Moon on September 23/24 is in fellow Cardinal Sign, Libra, your 4th house of home environment, memories, cultural roots, endings and new beginnings. If your birthday is right around the summer solstice, i.e. June 23, this is likely to bring something new into this part of your life. Continue to watch for how Jupiter is expanding matters related to your 2nd house which include income, possessions, finances, what you value, needs, comforts and pleasures. It's possible that many of those surprises coming your way are pleasant ones and will work to your advantage. It may involved letting go of old relationship paradigms, however, to get the most out of them.

Taking action with regard to your work, health or even pets is implied now that Mars has gone into Sagittarius, your 6th house which comprises these things. Make sure that your goals are realistic and that you can tell the difference between intuition and emotion. While influxes of intuition often come as a feeling it's important to be able to separate them from pure emotion which does not always lead you in the right direction. Thus, make sure you get a sanity check on any decisions that relate to this part of your life from someone who can be more objective and either validate or negate what you plan to do.
