HIDDEN MESSAGES

INTRODUCTION

We are all looking for unconditional love. Most of us never got it. When we fall in love we think, "Now, finally, here is someone who will give me the (unconditional) love I've always wanted."

So we marry. Then it starts---because we're not programmed for love. Instead, we are programmed to duplicate our parents' relationship. Because of this programming, even if we found someone who loved us unconditionally, we would have to push them away.

How can we attract what we are not programmed to receive? We can't---until we take a conscious look at what we are programmed to attract. Only then can we change our lives.

This program is designed to help us do just that.

Your birth chart interpretation is based on the positions of the planets at the time of your birth. For the benefit of students of astrology, these positions, along with other technical information, are listed below:

Sun	28 Lib 29	Pluto	21 Lib 58

HIDDEN MESSAGES

PROGRAMMING

She was an extremely beautiful woman in her mid-thirties. She was also an extremely successful business woman---equal to or better than many men in her profession. She'd come to me for a consultation because she was considering remarrying. Although her two previous marriages had been unsuccessful, she longed for a man with whom she could be happy. She was in my office because she honestly wondered if that were possible.

In the course of the consultation, she shared with me that her mother was successful in her career. Message: BE A SUCCESS IN YOUR CAREER. She also shared that her mother had been married several times, so she was programmed for multiple marriages. Each time my client married, her mother encouraged her to leave her husband. Her mother's message was: MARRY, BUT DON'T STAY MARRIED. As a child, my client saw her mother win every argument with each of her husbands. Message: ARGUE WITH MEN AND WIN. My client's father was strong, but distant and unaffectionate. Message: MEN ARE DISTANT AND UNAFFECTIONATE. My client created this situation in her marriages and felt unloved by her husbands. Each of her stepfathers put up a good fight, but ultimately they left. Message: MEN WILL PUT UP A GOOD FIGHT AND THEN LEAVE.

The combination of verbal and non-verbal messages produced a woman who resented men, yet kept turning to them to make her happy. Because she was programmed for marriage to be stormy and her husbands to leave, she created just that. She married strong men and wound up emasculating them. She was looking for love, but her programming would not let her keep it.

Her fiancé played right into the program. He was stubborn and determined. He was not a success in his career, although he had great potential. Each time he came close to success, he'd fall short. His ambitions were high, but he became a dilettante. He made a great impression, but had no money. His programming explained it all. At one point in time, his father had been very important and successful in his career. When the young man was just a boy, his father had been nominated for an extremely prestigious award. Winning this award would have meant financial security for the rest of his life. Unfortunately, another nominee was selected as the winner. From that point on, the son was programmed to COME CLOSE, BUT FALL SHORT, and that's exactly what he did in every area of life.

His parents had not gotten along. His proud, stoic father had given him the message that THE WOMAN SHOULD PUT THE MAN FIRST. He also felt that MEN WERE MORE INTELLIGENT THAN WOMEN.

These two were programmed for each other. Here was a chauvinist up against a powerful woman; a business failure up against a business success. Neither one, however, was programmed for a warm, loving relationship, though that's what they both wanted. When faced with a situation like this, the first reaction might be to discourage a marriage, since it seems doomed to failure. Yet, these two people were attracted to each other precisely because they could give one another what each was programmed to receive. And, in spite of their programming, they loved one another. This love could, if they chose, be the impetus to help them see and release their programming and create a warm, loving relationship.

This situation occurs all the time. Our hidden messages are so deeply ingrained in our subconscious that we respond to them unknowingly. For example, if one of your hidden messages is that YOU CANNOT BE HAPPY WHILE A FAMILY MEMBER IS UNHAPPY, you will find that you are never happy because there is always someone who needs your help. Even if you are miles away, just knowing that a relative might be unhappy about something can upset you. After awhile, this message can be triggered simply by the suggestion of happiness--as soon as you feel good you have to feel bad. This totally destroys your enjoyment of life.

Another common message is that YOU WILL NEVER BE AS GOOD AS YOUR FATHER (OR MOTHER, OLDER SISTER, YOUNGER BROTHER, ETC.). If you received this message, you will see to it that you fall short of your goals so as not to surpass him. If he has not been much of a success in his life, where does that leave you?

We have been told that if we will live up to the potential indicated in the natal chart, our lives will work. Why, then, are so many lives not working? The answer is simple: they ARE working, or at least the hidden messages are working, running our lives. By knowing what these messages are, we can be free to be our highest and best, to be limitless.

YOUR FATHER'S MESSAGES

THE SUN

Your father takes you from the security of the home and teaches you how to act in society. He helps you form your public image, the face you want the world to see. The Sun represents your father.

Sun in Libra:

Your father taught you the value of partnership and the importance of balance in your life. He also taught you charm and diplomacy.

Sun in 11th house:

Your father taught you to be a friend, and to make your friends the center of your life. The catch is that HE is to be your close friend. This means he assumes the role of both father and friend, which can be confusing. He also taught you to be an authority to your friends. As a result, you want to lead any group in which you are involved---and the group turns to you for leadership.

Sun-Mercury angle more than 10 degrees:

Your father taught you to stand back from situations and people in order to see them objectively. This applies to him as well. Because of your objectivity, you are able to converse with others without constantly bringing the conversation back to yourself and your opinions.

YOUR MOTHER'S MESSAGE

THE MOON

The most important person in your early years is your mother. Because the Moon rules both the mother and the subconscious, her influence reaches you on the deepest levels. It might be said that since the subconscious is the repository of all past-life experiences, your mother triggers this memory, which is why her influence is so strong.

Your mother's main message is to look for emotional security. The house in which the Moon is placed natively indicates that area of life in which you hope to find this security. You received this message either directly or indirectly. She told you where to look for it, and you spend the rest of your life looking for it where she said it would be. The sign in which the Moon falls describes your mother, as do the aspects to the Moon. The aspects also tell you if it will be easy or difficult to find the security you seek. Because the Moon is changeable, the promise of emotional security is elusive. Perhaps this is why you keep returning to the place where it is supposed to be, hoping it will be there this time.

Keep in mind that these messages are not necessarily verbal. You can receive them from her actions as well as her words; by her presence as well as her absence.

Moon in Pisces:

Your mother can be either a dreamy romantic or an escapist. She taught you to either turn the other cheek, knowing it is the nature of love to forgive, or to be a martyr. She either chooses not to see negativity around her, preferring to look at the beauty of life, or she denies its existence and escapes into wishful thinking. There is a quality of make-believe about her which may be her emotional security. You both want a cause, a dream to live for. This is a beautiful spiritual placement for the Moon, giving great inspiration. Your greatest security comes from totally serving God.

Moon in 3rd house:

Your mother's message is to think emotionally and remember not just what happened, but how you felt about what happened. Your emotional security need may be fulfilled through talking. You are probably quite psychic, but may find it difficult to discern between intuition and emotion. The female influence in your early environment was strong. The Moon here can indicate not just your mother, but other female relatives. Travel may help fulfill your need for security. Your mother taught you to take your ideas personally, to identify with them emotionally, and to think defensively. However, your true freedom comes from letting go of your emotional attachment to your ideas.

Moon in soft aspect to Mercury:

Your mother is able to express herself clearly, and there is good communication between the two of you. This extends to communication with all women and the public in general. There is harmony between your conscious and subconscious minds, giving you the ability to articulate your thoughts well.

Moon in hard aspect to Venus:

Your mother does not really know how to show love and may give you things (gifts, food, praise) instead of love. This creates the concept of compensation: if you don't feel loved, you'll eat, spend money or indulge yourself in some way. This aspect can manifest as laziness. You can attract self-indulgent, even lazy people to you.

Moon in soft aspect to Mars:

You and your mother deal directly and forthrightly with each other. She taught you to channel your energies positively without wasting them. As a result, you are able to get things done quickly and easily. You have a good rapport with both men and women. You function well in competitive situations.

Moon in hard aspect to Jupiter:

This aspect tends toward overindulgence and exaggeration. Your mother buys love and compensates for lack of it. You tend to exaggerate your moods and attract people who overdo a good thing. You may overwhelm people by coming on larger-than-life.

Moon in hard aspect to Saturn:

Your mother is moody and depressed, and gave you the message that you're not supposed to be happy while a family member is unhappy. Also that you are somehow responsible for their unhappiness and, therefore, responsible for making them happy by being unhappy yourself. It's hard for either of you to have fun---life holds too much responsibility. There can be walls up between your mother and her family, and between you and your mother. You are afraid of the responsibility and emotional commitment required in a close relationship. This can make you cold, distant and unaffectionate. Lack of love can depress you and lead to self-pity.

Moon in soft aspect to Uranus:

Your mother is unique and gave you the freedom to be yourself. Your intuition is keen and your psychic bond with her is strong. You can be innovative, inventive and ahead of your time.

Moon in hard aspect to Neptune:

You do not see your mother clearly. Either she is so wonderful that you feel you'll never live up to her example, or she relinquished her responsibilities, leaving you to create your own maternal concept. She may have avoided reality through drugs, alcohol, food, sleep, etc. There is a great deal of wishful thinking on your part in connection with your mother. As a result of this, you can be vulnerable to people who deceive you if you ignore reality.

MESSAGES FROM AUTHORITY FIGURES

Saturn is reality and often, restriction. In the natal chart, it can represent your mother, father, grandparents, family ---anyone who imposes a restrictive influence on your life and tries to teach you reality through discipline.

Saturn in Libra:

The authority figures in your life taught you responsibility in relationships. They may have given you the message that relationships involve restriction. This may tend to make you fearful of partnership in general and marriage in particular.

Saturn in 10th house:

The public parent is your authority figure. He/she is traditional, strict, unbending, distant and powerful. He/she instills fear in you, which can manifest as respect, since that is what he/she wants. His/her message is that it is your responsibility to be a leader---yet HE/SHE is the leader, and will not permit you to surpass him/her. At some point in time, your natural leadership ability comes to light and you take command.

Saturn in hard aspect to Moon:

Restrictions imposed by the authority figures in your life gave you the message that you are not supposed to be happy while a family member is unhappy. Inherent in that message is the implication that somehow, you are responsible for their unhappiness and must, therefore, make them happy by being unhappy. You are afraid to get in touch with your emotions. Instead, you suppress them.

Saturn in soft aspect to Mars:

The authority figures in your life taught you to be brave and strong. You can take direction as well as lead, which gives you a good rapport with others. You do not fear leadership and are not too important to take care of the small details. You are disciplined and hard-working. Your energies are well-directed.

Saturn in hard aspect to Jupiter:

You experience conflict between doing what you want to do and doing what you feel you ought to do. Even when enjoying yourself, you feel limited. This message came to you from the authority figures in your life who would pull you back when you were enjoying yourself. Their concept of God involves fear. This can curb your enthusiasm since the implication is that if you have too much fun, God will punish you---there is a price to pay for all happiness--every silver lining has a cloud.

PLUTO

Pluto is another indicator of your mother's ---and sometimes your grandmother's--- message. Pluto represents total change, control, and transmutation. It is the all-or-nothing planet. Pluto deals with all the mysteries of life: life itself, where it originates, where it goes when it leaves this plane. Pluto and the aspects it makes in your chart describe your mother's message about and your attitude towards sex.

Pluto's house placement indicates where there can be a power play with your mother, where you will both try to dominate and control, and where you can bring about a total transformation. You control because you don't trust. You don't trust the people who rule the house in which Pluto falls.

While Pluto represents your mother's message, it can also represent your grandmother's. Use whichever word applies to you.

Pluto in Libra:

Pluto in Libra gives you the need to either be in control or be controlled in all partnerships. However, at some point in time, you can undergo a total change in your attitude toward partnership as well as what you want in a partner. You will then be able to free yourself from your need to either control or be controlled, and relate to others as equals.

Pluto in 10th house:

Your mother's message is to be in control in your career and be a powerful authority figure. You have a magnetic, compelling public image which she tries to dominate either by riding your coattails or competing with you for the limelight. You do not trust her. You want to dethrone her and assume leadership yourself. You can do so.

Pluto in hard aspect to Sun:

At the time of your birth your parents were involved in a power play. There was a lack of trust between them. They could not forgive and forget. This led to their resentment and vindication, which set the tone for your own relationships. You are manipulative and controlling, and find it hard to trust others. You do not forget past hurts. You want to dominate and lead, and resent those who do.

Pluto in soft aspect to Neptune:

There is a positive psychic bond between you and your mother. Your spiritual side is active, and you have vision and insight.

Pluto in soft aspect to North and South Nodes:

You have a natural understanding of psychic forces and use them positively. There is a deep bond between you and your mother. She is an important teacher to you.

THE FOURTH AND TENTH HOUSES

The fourth house relates to home, family and your deepest emotional security needs. It describes the parent to whom you look for the fulfillment of these needs. Traditional astrology gives the mother rulership over this house because she has been the nurturing parent, the one who stayed home and cared for the family. Today, though, mother often pursues a career, and it is father who provides the emotional security.

The tenth house rules your career, your public image and the authority figure(s) in your life. It is your father who teaches you how to get along in the world outside the home. As such, the tenth house traditionally relates to him.

There are no set rules as to which parent rules which house. Sometimes one parent fulfills both roles. Other times the parents reverse roles. Each chart must be analyzed individually to determine which parent rules the fourth and which rules the tenth.

The relationship between the fourth and tenth is important because your home, family and the security they give you determine how you will do outside the home. If you don't get what you need from one parent, you may turn to the other, who may or may not be able to fulfill your needs. Lack of emotional security in the home can lead to compensation in the career. The career, then, can become a parent replacement.

The signs on the cusps of the fourth and tenth houses add another dimension to understanding your parents. When trying to determine which house is which parent, it is helpful to exaggerate the descriptions enough to allow yourself to be able to make a distinction between the two.

Pisces on 4th Cusp:

This parent is finicky and worries a lot. He/she wants to serve and be needed.

Virgo on 10th Cusp:

This parent is a dreamer, an idealist who either inspires you or lets you down. He/she loves make-believe.

Jupiter in 10th house:

This parent is generous and optimistic. While he/she can exaggerate and possibly indulge, he/she is honest.

Saturn in 10th house:

This parent is the authority figure. There is a strong authoritarian note to your upbringing, with grandparents possibly playing an important role. This parent is traditional, strict, unbending, distant and powerful. He/she instills fear in you, which can manifest as respect, since that is what he/she wants. You feel it is your responsibility to be a leader, yet you may be fearful of being restricted. You like the status and power it brings, though. As a result of being told to take your career seriously and be in a position of power, you may not like doing menial tasks. You may have a dictatorial attitude toward subordinates. You may be involved in real estate or a family business.

Pluto in 10th house:

Your mother is the out-front parent and rules this house, unless Pluto describes your grandmother, or unless the Sun or Saturn are here, indicating your father's---and possibly your grandfather's---influence as well. Your mother's message is to be in control in your career and be a powerful authority figure. She tries to dominate your public image either by riding your coattails or competing with you for the limelight. You do not trust her. You want to dethrone her and assume leadership yourself. You can do so, for there can be a reversal of roles between the two of you. You have a magnetic, compelling public image which can assist you to totally change your career at some point in life.

THE ROVING DELEGATES

The signs represent principles to be learned. The house cusp on which a sign falls tells us the area of life in which that principle will be learned. Usually, the principle manifests in more than one area of life, since the ruler, or ROVING DELEGATE of that sign, carries the message to another house.

It makes no difference what sign falls on the cusp in question. We simply link the sign with its ruler's house position. For example, with Virgo on the fourth and Mercury in the eleventh, the ruler of the fourth is in the eleventh. The same thing is true if Taurus is on the fourth and Venus is in the eleventh. The same concept applies in each case.

The house in which the fourth or tenth house ruler falls gives us more information regarding that parent's messages.

Ruler of 4th house in 1st:

This parent has a direct influence on you, telling you to be yourself, but influencing you to be like him or her. You may look like this parent. Your emotional security need is fulfilled by being yourself.

Ruler of 10th house in 11th:

The authority figure in your life taught you to be a friend in your career, but at the same time, maintain your authority status. This parent wants to be your friend---and wants to be an important friend to you. He or she can influence your friends and choice of friends.

A FINAL WORD

Now that you've looked at your programming, you may be wondering if it will control you forever or if there is something you can do to change it, to move past it. There is. You can release it and yourself to God in complete faith and trust and just BE. When you come from BEING, you are coming from unconditional love. You see beauty everywhere. You are one with the whole and know that you are protected and loved.
